Editorial

- It was wonderful to be able to get away and catch up with other CRCs last week. The one day conference was held in Mandurah last Thursday and as great as it is to listen to guest speakers; the favourite for all of us is to network and find out what is happening at other CRCs.
- One item that did come up at the conference was the extension of what we will be able to do with our Service WA app and how more state government departments will come onto the app making it a one stop shop. Anyone listening or reading the news this week will know that Fuelwatch is the first of those facilities that will be on there.
- It's full steam ahead for our tree planting busy bees as everything is coming together; our tree orders as well as the tree guards have made it to Lake Grace. The first busy bee is this Sunday, 12th June. The meeting point is the corner of Wattle Drive and Griffin street at 9am. Please be on time as there will be instructions to get us on our way.
- The mandates may be lifting but it is still important to look after yourself and those around you. We still have RATs available and also plenty of masks. If you would like any of these then please drop into the CRC.
- Theresa Lee From Business Local will be in Lake Grace on Thursday 23rd June and is keen to have a chat with any small businesses to find out if they're having any issues and how she can help. She will also be running a (free) CANVA course from 10am to midday on that same day. All you need to bring is a laptop or tablet to work on. Please call the CRC to register your interest. Numbers are limited.
- Don't forget if your group or organisation is needing funds the Community Crop Community Grants could be an opportunity for you. Drop into the CRC to pick up an application form or email and we can send through to you.
- This fortnights paper is a little light on for news, amazing how a long weekend (and possibly COVID for some) can knock us off our axis. I'm sure we'll be back on track next fortnight with a full complement of sporting notes.
- It's all go over the next fortnight with the tree planting busy bees, Colts Carnival and Jo Darbyshire's exhibition opening. If you haven't dropped in to see Jo she would love to catch up, I'm sure all of us know of something that's disappeared from our lives.

About Town

- A belated congratulations to Chloe Robertson and Charlie Taylor who got engaged earlier this year. All the best to both of them for a bright and happy future.
- Congratulations to all of those junior hockey players who attended the South West Junior Hockey Carnival that was held in Bunbury last weekend. Started in 1991 with a handful of volunteers this carnival has grown to be one of the biggest in Australia. Over 140 teams travelled to Bunbury to participate in the 3 day event. Ongerup Hockey Association took 84 players with many kids returning home from boarding school to take part! Originally, more than 100 were headed to the Carnival but it was cut back due to COVID. Great effort!

Boots on for Bushcare Busy Bees

Michelle Slarke

After two years of planning, the time has come to put seedlings into soil. The first planting busy bee for the Lake Grace Bushcare Project is scheduled for this Sunday and preparations are well underway. The seedlings have arrived and Shire staff and contractors have ripped the sites and sprayed for weeds.

The project will see a variety of native plants planted over six sites around the town. Another community busy bee is set for Sunday 19th July while LGDHS students will also help out later this month.

We will be planting the following seedlings:

Jam Wattle (Acacia acuminata) - Shrub or small tree

Tan Wattle (Acacia hemiteles) - Medium shrub

Marsh Saltbush (Atriplex paludosa) - Low shrub

Blueberry Lily (Dianella revoluta) - Low shrub

Round-Leaved Pigface (Disphyma crassifolium) – Groundcover succulent

Barrier Saltbush (Enchylaena tomentosa) - Low shrub

Kondinin Blackbutt (Eucalyptus kondininensis) - Tree

Red Morrel (Eucalyptus longicornis) - Tree

Lake Grace Mallee (Eucalyptus loxophleba subsp. gratiae) - Mallee

Small Fruited Gum (Eucalyptus myriadena) - Tree

Swamp Mallet (Eucalyptus spathulata) - Tree

Coral Gum (Eucalyptus torquata) - Tall shrub or tree

Gorada (Melaleuca lateriflora) - Medium shrub

Boree (Melaleuca pauperiflora) - Tall shrub

Currant Bush (Scaevola spinescens) - Medium shrub

It won't be hard labour – there are jobs for all ages and abilities. We will need volunteers to:

- Remove seedlings from trays and pots
- Plant seedlings (sites are ripped so no digging)
- Carry seedlings to the people planting
- Place and stake tree guards

What do I need to bring?

We will have Pottiputki planting tools (more welcome if you have one) and morning tea. Come dressed in your gardening clothes and wear closed shoes. Please bring a water bottle, a hat and sunscreen.

Community Feral Animal Control Funding

Are foxes, cats and rabbits having an impact on your bottom line?

Feral animals impact Wheatbelt farms and take out large numbers of native species.

Our Healthy Bushlands program offers pest control support to anyone wanting to reduce the effects these animals are having on native species in bushland on, or adjacent to, their property.

Local Exhibition: Rural Utopia/Radical Disappearance

All are welcome to the opening of Rural Utopia / Radical Disappearance at 2.30pm on Saturday 18th June at the Regional Artspace

Welcome to country and talk about Aboriginal history by Willmen man Grant Riley from Dumblebung at 2.30pm.

Open Sat 18th and Sunday 19th June, 1 pm - 5pm
Exhibition dates 19 June-3 July, everyday 10-4pm

The community is invited to be involved in contributing to an art installation/exhibition with artist Jo Darbyshire, who can be found every afternoon in the Artspace. The theme of the exhibition is Radical Disappearance - and asks the community 'what has disappeared or is disappearing from Lake Grace?'

Local police Constable Oatridge's answer was "a sense of humour!"

The title comes from Tony Hughes d'Aeth's book Like Nothing Else on this Earth - a Literary History of the Wheatbelt (2017) in which he says that 50 million acres of bush were cleared by 1970 and that only 7 percent of original vegetation remains.

The exhibition includes artworks, found objects, personal collections, natural materials, photographs, texts and documents. It will explore many aspects of the theme- including Aboriginal history of the area.

Come along and have a look as the exhibition progresses and everyone is welcome to the opening on Sat 18.

The incoming Lions Lake Grace President, Chris Harvey, and some merry men started the tree planting season with a tree arbour along Wattle Drive.

With some refreshments from Mrs Joan de Vree to spur them along, everyone was able to get a little dirt under their nails and bask in the sunshine.

If you would like to become a member and get involved in some of the Lions projects then you are more than welcome. The group meet on the 2nd and 4th Thursday of the month with one month being a dinner meeting at the Hotel.

If you would like more information then please give Chris a ring or email the Lions Club on lglionsec@gmail.com

Tips for Integrating Work and Family Life

The Regional Men's Initiative - Tel: (08) 9690 2277 - menshealth@4blokes.com.au

One of the main issues that confront families and relationships is trying to achieve a balance between work and home life. The word balance tends to indicate a 50/50 arrangement, however that's a big ask. It's more appropriate to talk about work and home integration to ensure we don't get too out of balance.

There is no one perfect balance because every family is different, and every work place requirement is different. When machinery is not balanced it will wear and break, this can be the same consequence for family and couple relationships. All work and no play are problematic. Those busy times are necessary and explainable, but we need to ensure we have a catch-up.

So, what happens when we are not integrating work and home life in a balanced way?

- A disconnect can start to occur with our wife/partner, dad, kids, friends and relatives;
- Physical and mental well-being can be affected by issues like stress, anxiety, depression and fatigue;
- Resentment starts to infiltrate as perceived inequalities are felt around home duties, workload, parenting and intimacy;
- Feelings of disrespect, being ignored, being taken for granted, even feeling unloved may arise that can erode the quality of healthy family and couple relationships.

How do we get the balance right?

- Make couple time to communicate how you are each feeling;
- Keep a tab on work time verses home/family hours;
- Talk to your wife/partner/kids about your challenges of transitioning from work to home, so they can see your perspective and for you to see things from theirs;

- Talk/communicate with your partner about the type of parents you both want to be;
- If you are a new dad, take time off to help care and know your baby, help at night with feeding, dressing and that awful job of changing nappies;
- Allocate dad time, this can be every-day routines like taking/dropping kids off at school, the bus stop or sport. This will help develop and maintain connection with the kids by showing interest in their lives;
- It is also very important to leave some regular time for yourself.

How do I switch from work to home mode?

- Arrange your day to do the most difficult tasks first instead of at the end;
- Consider if it might be worth staying a little longer at work to finish up a task instead of bringing it home with you;
- Develop a ritual or routine to help you move from work mode i.e. change out of your work clothes and shower when you get home;
- Switch your thinking to the kids and home as you leave work, putting work to rest.

Being stressed and tired from a hard day's work can contaminate the time you spend with your children. The family will know if you are present with them or if your head is elsewhere.

If your wife/partner/kids feel second best, feelings about their own self-worth can be affected.

To finish here are a couple of questions you might like to ask yourself: 1. what good memory would you like your children to have of you? 2. when comparing your own upbringing what would you do differently as a dad?

Free Skin Cancer Screening

Saturday 23rd July 2022

Lions Cancer Council Institute Inc.

The Lions Cancer Institute (LCI) will be providing a free Skin Cancer Screening in Lake Grace on Saturday 23rd July (behind the driver reviver van on Stubbs Street). This free service provides for the early detection of skin lesions and where a lesion is identified a referral is made to your GP for further investigation. For booking information contact 0429 917 805.

The LCI is a project of the Lions Clubs of Western Australia. Since early 1990's LCI has been providing full body skin screening clinics throughout Western Australia, with an emphasis on Screening the remote and rural areas of the state.

From humble beginnings the Volunteers of LCI have screened over 80 000 patients and our records show that with the annual rate of referrals to a GP is in the order of 27% (21,600) and lesions suspected of being life threatening are at 6% (1260). Early detection of lesions will save lives and lessen the need for invasive surgery.

LCI's screening program is supported by qualified volunteer Dermatologists, Plastic Surgeons, Dermoscopists and GP's.

Funding for LCI's screening programs and research grants is provided by donations from Lions Clubs of WA, Business and from the public.

We are currently raising funds to replace our two ageing screening units with one purpose built unit. Donations can be made to The Lions Cancer Institute at WESTPAC BANK, BSB 036-107 ACCOUNT 218 557.

All donations over $2.00 are Tax Deductible

Luke Bairstow emceed the slide event, introducing the participants before they took the plunge – one of the sliders being ABC WA weather presenter Tyne Logan. Of the sliders Steve McWhirter appears to have raised some serious dollars, apparently contacting everyone he has ever know to encourage them to donate...and donate they did! Once the fifteen volunteers had finished with the slide it was a stampede from the children to get on board and have a go, one can only hope they had a change of clothes!

Throughout the day merchandise such as beanies and socks were being sold as well as raffle tickets; food in the evening was supplied by a couple of food trucks, giving the volunteers a break.

Following the slide, it was time for the auction. With 30 years under his belt as an auctioneer, Tiny Holly had little trouble entertaining the crowd and garnering more money with every bid. The most profitable item auctioned was a share in a racehorse for $5,500; the children's art from Lake Grace District High School also went well with the pieces in total bringing in $6,400.

Over $90,000 has been raised in this years Big Freeze, a monumental effort that well and truly takes the fundraising over the last six years past the $400k mark.

Everything went well on the day, the organisers would like to thank everyone who donated, sponsored, helped out or came along. Couldn't have happened without you!

Tyne Logan and Steve McWhirter high five.

Lyn Carruthers and Georgia Gray discovered how cold it was.

STATION NEWS

Scott and Wade have recently undergone their yearly Active Armed Offender training, this is a requirement for all operational front-line Police Officers in Western Australia.

The training has evolved over the years and is now dynamic in its delivery, involving room clearances and moving through open ground as safely and expediently as possible, chuck into the mix "members of the public" requiring various states of medical attention whilst also dealing with an armed offender, it certainly becomes an eventful days training.

Scott also spent a day in Albany requalifying in the use of the Stations AR-15 Armalite Rifle It doesn't often see the light of day for obvious reasons, but training in its use is still required just in case it's needed.

ONLINE SAFETY

We spoke in the last issue about cyberbullying but wanted to expand more about online safety. After our recent school talk we identified a concerning trend whereby the kids have group chats on an app, let's say Snapchat. The group chats contain people they know and more concerningly, a person they didn't. Of the group we spoke to no one knew one particular individual who was on several of chat groups. This individual was "known" to all of them as a friend of a friend however no one could name the friend who knew him personally. No one had met him and all that was known about him was what he had told people.

We grew up being told that we should be wary with strangers and this is still true, the modern "stranger danger" is more nefarious and children can be targeted in their own homes. A study by Australian's eSafety Commission showed one in four young people have been contacted by someone they don't know online.

Criminal offenders are highly skilled at exploiting new modes of communication to gain access to children and young people, and children and young people can easily access adults-only material if there are no protective mechanisms in place.

We were involved in one investigation where a 7 year old child was contacted and groomed into sending intimate images of themselves. From first contact to reporting what had happened to their parents was less than an hour and a half. The parents thought the child was watching kids shows on YouTube and were completely unaware.

Online safety is often used interchangeably with terms such as internet safety, cybersafety, internet security, online security and cyber security, although these terms can relate to different aspects of online engagement. For example, the risk of using computers, mobile phones and other electronic devices to access the internet and social media is that breaches of privacy may lead to fraud, identity theft and unauthorised access to personal information. Other risks for children and young people include image-based abuse, cyberbullying, stalking and exposure to unreliable information or illicit materials.

These situations can place a child or young person's emotional and physical wellbeing at risk. This is particularly the case where little or no attention has been paid to monitoring use, communicating with children or young people about use or securing the device being used. In these cases, online safety is a child protection issue.

While online safety is important for protecting children and young people from dangerous and inappropriate websites and materials, this does not mean that parents should discourage their children from using digital technology. The challenge is to help children and young people enjoy the benefits of going online while having the skills and knowledge to identify and avoid the risks.

Monitoring a young person's online activities includes checking that websites are appropriate for a child's use and keeping an eye on the screen. If parents are willing to provide children and young people with access to mobile phones and computers, then a responsibility to understand, model appropriate behaviour and communicate the basics of good digital citizenship should come with the access.

Advice on monitoring often focuses on keeping the device in a shared family area, yet in the age of wireless connections and internet-enabled smartphones this is increasingly difficult. Similarly, young people may control their own online details, such as passwords and web browser histories. Parents can address these difficulties in the following ways:

Develop a plan about internet use in partnership with family members. This can include:

- details of appropriate online topics;
- privacy setting checks
- physical locations for internet use and parental monitoring (looking over the shoulder or line of sight supervision);
- limits on screen time;
- limits on when wireless internet connections and/or mobile devices will be available; and
- what may be identified as inappropriate posts on online profiles.

An internet-use agreement may be useful to develop with older children.

Take an active role in discussing the benefits of online activities with children and young people, and what strategies they may use to respond to cyberbullying, other negative online behaviours or if they unintentionally access adult content. Discussions can include how these rules apply wherever they are online, including at home in their bedroom and when they are outside the home, for example at a friend's place.

Lastly, we recommend every parent go to www.esafety.gov.au. The website has a large amount of resources and information on this and other subjects.

Please take care and stay safe.

State Budget Securing the Wheatbelt

The McGowan Labor Government is setting the Wheatbelt up for the long-term - diversifying the economy and creating jobs, boosting regional health and mental health investment, and providing important cost-of-living relief for local households.

The 2022-23 State Budget includes a record $12 billion investment in regional infrastructure - only eight per cent of which is being delivered through Royalties for Regions.

Royalties for Regions expenditure is more than $4.2 billion over the next four years, and includes $263 million in regional election commitments and other new initiatives.

Western Australia's strong financial position also gives the State Government the capacity to boost regional health and mental health investment by $158.3 million - in addition to $1.6 billion of State-wide COVID-19 response and recovery measures, including free RATs for regional communities.

Cost of living support includes the $400 Household Electricity Credit for WA households across the State, which will see household fees and charges decline by 3.8 per cent - the third consecutive year fees and charges have been kept below projected inflation.

More than $2 billion will be invested to keep regional water and electricity costs in line with what metropolitan users pay.

A total of $541.3 million will be invested to continue to fund regional school bus services around the State, with $48.6 million to establish the Regional Digital Connectivity Program to improve mobile and internet coverage in the country.

About $1.5 billion per year will be invested to provide regional students with access to quality education - including $349.2 million for refurbishments, upgrades and new builds at country primary and secondary schools over the next four years.

Regional WA TAFEs will share in around $200 million a year for vocational education and training, career and employment advice, and TAFE support services.

To keep the community safe, over $410 million a year will be invested in WA Police's regional districts.

The State Government is also this year delivering on a $200 million joint State ($40 million) Commonwealth ($160 million) funding package to boost WA's regional rail network.

This includes progressively reopening the Tier 3 Narrogin-Kulin rail line to service grain and other potential customers in the Narrogin-Wickepin area - as well as rail siding extensions at Moora, Brookton, Cranbrook, Broomehill, Avon, Kellerberrin, Dowerin, Konnongorring, Ballidu, Mingenew, and Perenjori North, and upgrades to the Midland Line Main Line.

The 2022-23 Budget continues efforts to diversify the economy, create local jobs and support tourism, and includes:

- $80 million boost to the Investment Attraction Fund, increasing it to $180 million to support diversification proposals to create local jobs in new and emerging industries;
- $50 million increase to the Industrial Land Development Fund, increasing it to $100 million to unlock private sector investment and spark new growth opportunities;
- $25 million will establish the new Western Australian Agricultural Collaboration to grow agriculture research and development in WA;
- $21.1 million boost to Tourism WA's destination marketing to encourage tourists to come to WA and travel into the regions;
- $17.7 million for Tourism WA to develop new tourism experiences in national parks;
- $12 million for the WA-Array seismic survey to unlock new mineral deposits and job-creating opportunities around the State;
- $6 million to the Minerals Research Institute of Western Australia to pursue strategic research opportunities, including critical minerals and clean energy technologies;
- $4.5 million boost to the Local Capability Fund to assist local businesses to increase their capability

Bits and Pieces

Kevin Seaman

Ever get a word that pops into your thinking and for the next day or two you wonder why? Well, it happened to me recently. So, I thought I would pass it onto you and see what you can make of it.

The word “hypothetical” and how often are we put to the test to solve a hypothetical question. The definition of such a question is: It is a question based on imaginary scenarios. They are used to explore possibilities; get you thinking in new directions or leave you totally confused.

So the following hypothetical questions are yours to test your imagination:

If you were the emperor of Earth, what would be the first rule that you would make?

If you were a dog, what dog breed would you be?

What would be your perfect first date and with whom? You can choose anybody and anywhere on the planet.

If you could only eat one kind of food for the rest of your life, what would it be?

If when you die, someone takes the VR headset off your head and asks you how the virtual life was, what's the first thing you say?

What animal would you choose to fight against Iron Man?

If you could immediately solve any unsolved mysteries in history, what mystery would you choose and why?

If you could pick a topic to have an in-depth documentary made, what topic would you pick?

If you had infinite money, where would you live? What kind of lifestyle would you have?

If Planet Earth was in a science fair competing with other planets around the universe, what would be Earth's best option to showcase?

If you could make any animal or monster from any video game or movie as your loyal pet forever, which would you choose?

If happiness has a flavour, what would it taste like?

If you weren't related to your brothers and sisters, would you still be friends with them? Why or why not?

If you could permanently delete any invention from history, what would it be?

If your life had its own national anthem, what would it be?

If your brain was a room, what would it look like inside?

You have 10 minutes to hide a paperclip in your home. A detective will come and will look for it during the next 24hours, if they don't find it, then you win a certain amount of money. Where would you hide it?

If you suddenly woke up 15 years in the past, your child/teenage self once again, but you kept your current memories and experiences. What would you do?

If you had to choose between being the tallest or the shortest person on the planet, which would you choose and why?

If you could choose one thing from science fiction to exist in the real world, what would it be?

If cars could have any shape or form, what kind of cars would you like to see in the streets?

If someone told you “say a movie quote!”, what is the first thing that comes to your mind?

Another word which also penetrates my thinking was a monologue, it reminds me of the time just after I got married and found out what I was to be confronted with over the coming years.

After realising what I had let myself in for, I wrote this little monologue.

A Little Monologue

By K. B. Seaman

They took:

The Vanity from a peacock

The Cunning from the fox

The brains from a jackass

The jawbone from the ox

The sting from the bee

The venom from the viper

Put them into my Jeannie,

And married her off to me.

(and Jeannie says “And if you see Kev next week with two black eyes??”)

From the CEO

Ordinary Council Meeting 25 May 2022

- Council authorised the Shire Administration to open up submissions for road name proposals for 30 days for the new road to be constructed between Lake Grace-Newdegate Road and Bidy Camm Road on existing land Lots 101 and 12 Kulin-Lake Grace Road.
- Council has authorised additional works at the Newdegate Town Hall and authorised the withdrawal of $70,000 from the Newdegate Town Hall Reserve to undertake works to the internal of the hall.
- At the Ordinary Council meeting on Wednesday 27 April 2022, the Chief Executive Officer received a resignation letter from Councillor Shane David Carruthers as Councillor. To replace Cr Carruthers, the Shire with the assistance from the WA Electoral Commission (WAEC) will conduct an extraordinary election within 80 days from Council Resolution. In accordance with section 4.20(4) of the Local Government Act 1995, the Electoral Commissioner to be responsible for the conduct of the extraordinary election. In accordance with section 4.61(2) of the Local Government Act 1995 that the method of conducting the election will be as a postal election.
- Local Governments are required to provide an annual report on the progress of their Disability Access Inclusion Plan (DAIP) strategies and outcomes to the Minister of Disability Services which is tabled in Parliament each year. Council accepted the 2021/2022 Disability Access and Inclusion Plan (DAIP) Progress Report as presented.

The annual CEO Performance Review was carried out by Council recently and at the Council meeting of 25 May 2022 Council resolved to extend my contract until June 2024. I thanked Council and the community for it's continued support and look forward to the next few years as there is still a lot of things to do.

Craig and myself have been in discussions with the Department of Water and Environmental Regulation Rural Water Planning Division regarding our further plans and ideas for the capture and storage of water across the Shire. DWER is very supportive of our ideas and have indicated that further funding applications for grants will be given viewed favorably.

In other water news DWER have purchased a large quantity of CBH tarps that they will be running out on dam catchments to improve water capture into the dams rather than it soaking into the ground first. A fair bit of money has been laid out for this and it should prove very beneficial.

The Newdegate Town Hall is looking good after a well deserved spruce up and as mentioned above we will now give the internals a paint and a clean up to finish the job off for the upcoming centenary celebrations.

The annual Lake Grace/Pingrup vs Boxwood Hills Winter Sports Big Freeze took place in town on the weekend of the 28th May. The fundraiser which supports FightMND, always gets a big crowd and this year was no exception. The days sports are rounded off with an auction, live band, and lots of brave souls heading down the slide into a pool of icy cold water. This years event has already raised in excess of $80,000. Which is a absolutely fantastic achievement for all those involved.

Recycling Services

Household Waste Collection is a weekly service and collected each Tuesday for Lake Grace, Newdegate, Lake King & Varley.

Recycling is a fortnightly service and alternates between Lake Grace and Newdegate. See below for the upcoming recycling collection dates.

Lake Grace	Newdegate
Tuesday 21 June	Tuesday 14 June
Tuesday 5 July	Tuesday 28 June

Please Note: There is no kerbside recycling collection service in Lake King or Varley.

The recycling bins are collected by Warren Blackwood Waste and transported to a recycling facility. If items which are not recyclable are found the content can't be recycled and the load will be directed to the landfill.

If an item is covered in food, it is not recyclable. Food is one of the worst contaminants in the recycling process. By using the yellow top recycling bin correctly you are contributing, in a combined community effort, to reduce the amount of rubbish that is directed to landfill facilities each year.

Community Information

The Lake Grace All Abilities Playground project continues slowly but surely despite the enormous challenges of Covid-19, labour shortages and global supply chain disruptions.

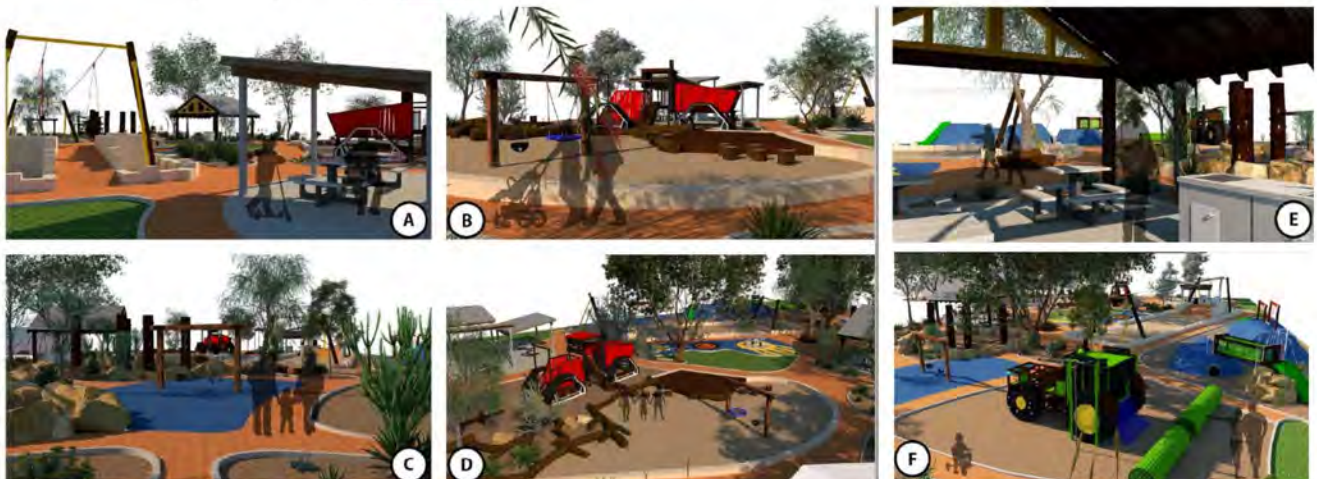

The finalised concept and layout plans were completed in the first quarter of this year, softfall colour schemes selected, and manufacturing and acquisition of the large climbing fort structures and all other play equipment has now commenced in Perth. The first truckload of gear will be ready for shipping to Lake Grace in coming weeks which is very exciting.

Because of the delays caused by the pandemic, funding approvals and also because of the huge amounts of Australian Government economic stimulus money provided to local governments to carry out projects like this one, WA based playground designers and contractors have significant pipelines of work all over the state meaning we are in the queue awaiting completion of some of these other works before our construction and installation phase can commence.

At this stage the Shire anticipates it is likely to occur in the September quarter but is doing everything it can to facilitate a start time as soon as possible, with the view to completing it all in one mobilization before the onset of summer.

Lake Grace/Pingrup A Grade Netball

Karen Bairstow

Round 6—28th May LG-P v Boxwood Hill Big Freeze

A great day for sport with lots of people around for the big freeze. We had worked on a few things at training leading into the game and it showed in the game of netball the girls played this week.

It was a great team effort against Boxwood as everyone contributed to the win. Although we didn't score as many goals in the last quarter as we did in the other three quarters the girls held on to win the game.

We changed a few players around this week. Well done to Chloe McDougall, who played in goas then went to defence for the last three quarters.

Also to Joely, who played wing defence.

Final score: LGP—59 to Boxwood—17.

Best on ground—Tuscany Dew. Great game at WA, she ran hard all game and delivered the ball beautifully into the goal shooters.

2nd Best On Ground - Brianna Brookes. She played in goals this week and had great confidence in shooting and had good movement around the circle.

Coaches Award—Debb Carruthers. Played in WA and gave good avenues out of our defence and put pressure on the pass going into the goal circle.

A few weeks break from games but lets keep training so we take that form into the game against the Newdegate girls on June 25th.

Lake Grace/Pingrup B-Grade Netball Notes

Teneeka Morgan

Not the best game we have played, but at least we can pin point areas we need to improve on as a team at training.

Best on Ground - Kelly Callope. Always our reliable GD working tirelessly to run the whole 60 minutes out. A great reader of the play which gives us more opportunities down the court. Well done Kelly.

2nd Best on Ground - Jennie Roche. Our loudest proudest cheerleader the club as ever had. Always willing to learn and improve her netball skills, which she brought to the game on Saturday. Well done on an outstanding performance Jen.

Coaches Award - Courtney Withnell. She stood tall in GS, and made a lot out of nothing with the passes coming into her. Never took the smile off her face and is always encouraging others. Unfortunately went down with an injury, but we hope to see you back on court soon.

Round 6—28th May

LG-P v Boxwood Hill: Big Freeze

First game all year we had all our year 6 and 7s, so all the kids warmed up feeling confident. Started the game strongly with skill used on the field as we practiced at training. Kids playing a very strong team game was exciting to watch.

Tyler scored our first goal in the first 1/4, then Dakota scoring her first ever goal not long after. The kids were pumped and fought hard all game.

We won 2-0

Awards for Round 6:

Best on ground - Tyler Argent

2nd best - Khalen Pitcher

Coaches - Kyal Harwood
