Lake Grace's Champion Scholar - 1928

Len Price's early childhood years were spent on a farm west of Pingelly. As was typical of the times he and his sisters drove in a horse and cart three miles to a one teacher, one room school.

During this time Mr Price's father had had an overriding interest in the Methodist Ministry, when persuaded to join in 1926 it was on the condition that he was given the hardest position to fill, this was the Lake Grace - Ravensthorpe region.

With no housing available in Lake Grace at this time the Price family lived in Ravensthorpe for the first 12 months. In 1927 Len and his family moved into Lake Grace, living in the house on the east side of the Methodist (Uniting) Church.

Len and his younger sister attended the Lake Grace school in 1927 and 1928. Len said, "the school was one room but it was divided by a line of moveable cupboards. This meant the upper and lower classes (there was two teachers) could be separated to a degree". The Head Master in 1928 was Mr Bradshaw.

In 1928, this being Len's final year of school, he was presented with the gold medal for being Champion Scholar of the year.

The medal is 9 carat gold plated, the front engraved with his initials LCP, while the reverse carries the inscription...

Seventy six years on Len's medal is in mint condition.

Len's sister, Winifred Price (now Chambers), who resides in Hopetoun won a similar medal in a later year, unfortunately this was lost in a house fire some years ago.

When Len finished school at the end of 1928 the world was in the grip of the Great Depression. Lake Grace was only a small country town, with little opportunity in the way

Funding for a Year of Art

Lake Grace is set for exciting and challenging arts from the Lake Grace Artist's Group after the organisation received funding for their 2005 program. An Arts and Cultural Organisation Funding and Assistance program grant from Country Arts WA will mean more exhibitions and art workshops in Lake Grace – all in a new art space.

The Country Arts WA grant will fund the annual exhibition, as well as an invitation show and the cataloguing and exhibition of the Shire art collection. The Artist's Group will also collaborate with Lake Grace Youth Advisory Council and Lake Grace District High School to facilitate Art to Wear, a parade and exhibition of costumes designed and manufactured from new and recycled materials. Art to Wear includes performance, choreography and the design and creation of costumes and sets by students.

The group's public program has a strong community focus and will again include a variety of art workshops – introduction to painting; metalwork; and cardboard construction/papier-mache sculpture. The aims of the 2-day workshops are to introduce new media and skills to both beginners and experienced artists. The metalwork workshop in particular, with its focus on creating metal artworks, forging, welding and tool-making, is designed to appeal to both men and women.

The 2005 art program will expand the Artist's Group's already busy schedule which includes the On the Sheep's Back project and workshops to create mosaics for the base of the town clock, both due for completion early next year. Also planned is a collaboration between the group and community members for the 'Liminal' exhibition at Vancouver Arts Centre as part of the Perth International Arts Festival's Great Southern component.

Central to the Artist's Group program is the new, yet to be named art space (formerly the Four Square supermarket). Owners Kerrie and Greg Argent, and Tania and Darren Spencer are working to create a contemporary, multi-purpose and flexible art space where local and visiting artists can show their artwork through invitational, group and solo exhibitions. The creation of this venue also means that the Artist's Group will have a permanent visible centre on the main tourist route.

When the siren sounds... a note of appreciation.

For most of us, the sound of the town alarm siren strikes fear and concern – are people we know and love involved in some crisis? During the last few months the local emergency services — fire and rescue, ambulance, police and hospital workers — have been called upon to attend a number of incidents in our district.

They are called by the alarm siren, usually in the middle of the night, to attend road accidents and emergencies. To cut accident victims from crumpled cars; to save lives; to remain calm and to care and comfort.

To those who play a role in these agencies, many of them being volunteers, your courage and dedication are appreciated. Thank you.

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY

Neville and Maureen Moulden - 6th November

90 years young....

Hello Lake Grace,

I read about the 90th Anniversary in the School Matters. Unfortunately I am unable to attend, but I've dug out a few bits that people from my era may be interested in.

I taught at Lake Grace in 1978 and 1979 for my first two years of teaching. It was a friendly little place and a lovely two years. I remember quite a few of the kids I taught. Two years ago, I wrote to Margaret Carruthers and sent her a list of names and asked her what those kids were doing.

I was sad to hear, from Flo Robinson, of Margaret's passing away. My twin sister knows Hilary from her teaching days at Derby. I have kept in touch with Bob and Pat Watson, and Flo Robinson. I last saw Bob and Pat at Nanyatarra Roadhouse in July, where they were staying with their daughter, Val. I see Flo most Christmas holidays at Dunsborough.

I am 47 now and still teaching, part time, at Karrinyup PS. I have 3 teenage children, Amy, 18, Robert, 16, and Jennifer, 14. I am still married to David Elson, who I was going out with before I went to LG. We live at Connolly, and our block backs on to the seventh green of the Joondalup Golf Course, so if anyone is playing golf up there, please stick your head over the fence and say hello! The De Vrees have an agricultural machinery business just near here which I walk past every day when I walk my dog.

I know that Deb and Craig Clarke live at Geraldton. Deb (Miss Simmonds) taught the Year 4s, and Craig taught Manual Arts. They have 3 children, about the same age as ours. I am still very good friends with Barbara Pack, who lives in Scarborough. She has never married. She has had this year off teaching and is enjoying travelling to every corner of the world with various friends. We went to Sydney/Melbourne with her in March. I see her a lot and speak to her at least once a week. My boss at Karrinyup is John Rutherford who spent a short time in Lake Grace after I had gone.

Judy Cribb taught with me at Bambara and is now the Deputy at Joondalup PS. She has a son called Elvis, who is about 4.

I have seen Rachel Coad's graphics in the "West", and her beautiful paintings in a gallery in town. I would like to think that I am partly responsible for her success - Art has always been one of the things I just love teaching!

I met up with Ben Jarvis about 10 years ago. Glen, his mum, was, and still is, the Registrar at Takari PS in Balcatta, where I taught for 7 years. She is a great person-she is married to Bruce Quartermaine who is a lovely guy and they are very happy. Ben was working at Northam last I heard; he is tall and blonde.

I have enclosed a photo of the Pink Palace and wonder if it's still there. Helen Bennett, if you read this, I apologise unreservedly for all the loud music and parties we subjected you guys to in our sillier moments. If Bruce Bishop reads this, Hi Bruce, I still think of you, and I would have loved to have seen you again!

To all the kids I taught in 1978 and 1979, I hope you have found your niche and are living happy, healthy lives. Thankyou for giving me my first happy two years of teaching!

Have a lovely Anniversary day,
Kind regards,

Marget Elson. (Miss Atyeo)

Early Days at Lake Grace by H Bishop

We continue on with the fifth instalment.....

As harvest time approached in 1915 there was a rumour abroad that the railway would be extended from Kukerin only approximately 20 miles, and would in fact stop short of crossing the lake, and farmers took matters to some extent into their own hands. A wheat buying firm was persuaded to take delivery (actually the wheat buying firms took delivery on behalf of the Government during War time) and wheat was delivered weighed and stacked beside the railway survey pegs precisely where the town now stands. The first bag of wheat ever to be delivered was carried by Mary Carruthers, the youngest member of that family. It was rather less than the standard 3-bushel bag in general use.

Whether this attempt to pressurise the Government had any effect would be hard to determine and would be of academic interest only at this time, for the line was built as desired and officially opened by the Premier, Hon John Scaddan, on 19th June, 1916. Possibly as a result of the long drab years of doubts and frustration, of drought and water shortages, of lack of communications, and partly because it was War time, the opening was somewhat of an anticlimax, but the important fact remained – we had a railway.

Until now it had been a matter of survival; survival until such time as a more gracious life could be lived, until produce could be grown and marketed at least on equal terms with other districts, and looking back it is a little surprising that all did survive financially, and that none succumbed to either sickness or accident. Primary production, except in a few instances, has never been a stable industry, with unpredictable weather and equally unpredictable prices, and until this time everything bought or sold had been subject to a toll imposed by the distance from rail. Contract cartage costs were at that time 1/- (10 cents) per ton, per mile, so at 30 mile superphosphate cost would be increased by 30/- ($3.00) per ton or approximately an increase of 50%, while 30/- for the cartage of 36 bushels of wheat would mean that almost one bushel in each three-bushel bag would be lost in this expense.

Mr Hurtle Bairstow of the Dumbleyung family was the first storekeeper in the township, and a newsagent and Post Office facilities were soon provided. A regular train service once a week operated and Thursday, train day, was always an event. Not an express service, by any means, either to Wagin or Perth, as a train leaving Lake Grace at 9am arrived in Wagin at about 6pm, and passengers desiring to proceed to the capital then waited until 1:30am the following day and reached the city at 9am. Nine hours for the first 80 miles and approximately 24 hours overall for the complete trip. Outward from Wagin the train stopped at Dumbleyung for about an hour and many passengers, regretful at leaving the last amenity in the form of a hotel, would spend the maximum time in fortifying themselves against the coming drought. The final dash to board the train after it was moving, usually encumbered by a bottle in each hand was quite entertaining.

The years 1917-18 were rather uneventful except for the gradual increase in the number of town building and of course the Armistice in the latter year. Crop yields were average but farmers were paid only an advance of their wheat and final payment was not made until many years afterwards, about 1922. To celebrate the end of the War a barbecue was held at the School, a small bullock being donated by Mr Carruthers and roasted on a spit, with Mr Slarke officiating as chief cook and turner of the spit.

From 1919, with the Soldiers' Settlement Scheme in operation, the population doubled very quickly and large areas to the North, East and South were soon occupied. Mr Dave Elliott, who had held a block of land since 1914 took up permanent residence and later held every public office of note in the district. He was also chief organiser of the Jubilee Celebration in 1961. Dave said in later years that he took up a block in 1914 came out and had a look at it, and went to the War.

Mr Carruthers increased the family holdings by purchasing Ben Riches' land for son Jim, George Lawson's for Hugh, Charlie Boulton's for Bill, and Bill Hickman's for Dick.

Ben Riches has not been mentioned earlier. He was, or appeared to be, a bachelor, middle-aged when he came to the district in 1912, not interested in making much progress and not in the least worried by conditions that existed. Ben had quite a comfortable humpie and made it readily available for meetings, a picnic or two, and for several Church services. He did enough work to keep himself fit and healthy, but his hobby and chief pursuit was studying form – race horse form. He never missed the annual horse racing carnival in Perth at Christmas time, but whether he returned from these trips sadder, wiser or richer is not known. He left as quietly as he arrived but a small hill, by the efforts of the Road Board hardly a hill any longer, about two miles south of Lake Grace will always be known as 'Riches Hill'.

No history of this or any other developing district would be complete or give a true impression of life in those days without mention of men who did a great deal of the hard work – the itinerant contractors. These, usually two together, considered it infra dig to work for a 'cocky' for wages, but always insisted on piece work, clearing, burning up, fencing or the like, and took great pride in the quality of their work and the amount that they could do; always insisting on their due but never wanting more. Their camps would consist of two or perhaps only one small tent, their cooking facilities a camp fire, camp oven, billies, and frying pan, and their light kerosene storm lanterns. The employer must provide a tank and water and they would camp right on the job. The camps were always models of cleanliness and hygiene and Sunday would be a rest day. Their recreation was an indulgence in a periodic 'bender' or drinking spree, every six months or so, or at the completion of a contract. The payment for months of hard work and discomfort would be dissipated at the nearest pub in the matter of a week or a little more. From there, another contract and another bender. There is nothing commendable in their way of life by ordinary standard, but they were invariably good workers, reliable and honest, and played their part in developing the outback.

One man, similar in type to those mentioned above, who was willing to work for wages and who deserves a mention in these notes, was Tommy Parker. Tommy could not be mistaken. While to me he was distinguished by the complete and utter loyalty he had to his employer, he was distinguished to everyone else by the fact that he always wore 'bowyangs'. To the uninformed, bowyangs consisted of a string or strap around each trouser leg below the knee, presumably to give free movement to those joints.

Since writing the first rough draft of this history I have been advised by my shorthand-typist-collaborator that the origin of the word bowyangs is 'bowie hangs', from these straps being a convenient place in which to carry a bowie knife; also that the 'wearing of' rendered the wearer safe from invasion by snakes, goannas, rats and mice.

Tommy started to work for Paddy McMahon about 1913 and from then on the horses were 'our horses' and it was 'our crop', in a way that would delight any employer, and Tommy was still living on the McMahon homestead at the time of his death, when he must have been over 80 years of age. But every few months he would get very cross-grained and have a few words with Paddy. He would stalk indignantly, all 5'6" of him, the three miles to the town and the hotel, there to advise everyone of his dissatisfaction with everything and to get very drunk. After two or three days Paddy would drive up to the town and suggest to him that he came home, and Tommy would climb into the buggy like a lamb and all would be peace again. I remember him having a wagon team runaway, in which a horse was killed; a pure accident, but Tommy blamed himself and was heartbroken. At one stage he saved up to go and see a sister in Victoria, but he had to change trains at Northam, and alas, he was back in Lake Grace about a week later and the trip to Victoria was never mentioned again.

It may be said by some readers that I have been wasting ink and paper on a lot of drunks, but to know them was to know their good qualities too, and I was proud to call many of them my friends. It was typical of these times that no young woman or girl was ever molested, not did the possibility of molestation ever cross anyone's mind, and a coat left hanging of a fence with money in a pocket would undoubtedly have been quite intact six months later.

The early 1920's saw many changes in the now established district and the hunger for many things, that have previously been barely recognised, was satisfied in every possible, even crude, way that was available. Dances were held between the counters in the Bairstow shop to the music of a accordion played in turn by Jim Bennett and Charlie Humphries. My elder sister and I attended several dances in Kukerin, travelling by pony and sulky; the timetable was to leave Lake Grace about 4pm, attend the dance until midnight, and then re-harness the pony and arrive home about 5am. The pleasure was considered well worth the effort.

of work. However Len was fortunate to get the position of night duty switchboard operator seven nights a week from 10pm to 8am. During the daylight hours he worked with Noel Thorsage who was a plumber and a sheet metal worker.

When Len's parents and sisters moved to Ravensthorpe in 1930, he remained on, boarding with Mrs Pearce.

In 1932 when Len's family moved to Meekatharra he left Lake Grace to join them.

Since Mr Price left Lake Grace he has spent time in Meekatharra and Norseman before enlisting in the army in 1942. Following his discharge at the end of World War II he moved to Ravensthorpe, finally moving to Esperance in 1993.

Although it is seventy two years since Mr Price left Lake Grace, his memories of our community are still vivid.

Welcome to another week of fitness. The past fortnight has produced some fantastic results with class numbers increasing consistently. Congratulations to all of you who have made a great start to a fit and healthy summer, especially those of you who have made it to an early morning session or two.

It really is a fantastic way to start the day. So far the feedback I have been receiving has been great, participants are enjoying the physical and social aspects of the classes.

Remember it's your feedback that I work from. As we are moving rapidly into one of the busiest times of the year for everyone I want to encourage you each day to stop and take time out for yourselves. Don't neglect what your body may be telling you, whether its to take a break, or get outside (or inside), or take some time for yourself and do something you like. You are far better taking time out and then going back and giving 100% than pushing yourself at 85% and if something doesn't feel right, do something about it, don't wait for it to go away.

Now is the perfect time to start preparing your body for the busy time. Get plenty of rest, try to drink plenty of fluids especially water, eat sensibly from the five food groups, try to participate in regular physical activity, take time for yourself and if the weather may affect you pace yourself, you'll still get the job done.

If you have any suggestions, queries or would like to discuss anything further please do not hesitate to contact me at the Shire.

Good luck with harvest and the approaching busy season. Wishing you good health.

Letisha

WEATHER PERMITTING

As the kids get into the swimming season, you will notice the change in confidence gradually increase between now and the end of summer.

Here are some ways to:

BOOST YOUR CHILD'S CONFIDENCE IN THE WATER

- * Do more bragging than nagging
- * Be optimistic, its catching
- * Remember, not all bruises show up on the outside
- * Teach children the difference between 'me first' and 'my turn'
- * Help your child remember the good times in the bad times
- * Be silly once in a while
- * Don't expect consistency, logic, unselfishness or other miracles that take time to grow
- * Listen to your child
- * Don't expect every skill to be learnt first time

Self esteem is not something we teach, its absorbed, Its something you can package and it takes time. But it is the most important gift we can give our children. As Matthew Arnold once said, "he who finds self loses misery".

RECENT HAPPENINGS

The last few weeks have seen a dramatic increase in anti-social driving. There appears to be a hard-core number of young drivers who selfishly think that Lake Grace and surrounds are a private race way and burnout track. I have lost count of the number of times I have called for witnesses to this senseless driving and surely enough, this culminated in a serious traffic crash in which one driver suffered broken bones and others minor injuries.

The safety message, though simple enough, is clearly not getting through. As a result of this there is now a ZERO tolerance policy in place—three drivers have found this out so far.

We are doing our best to provide a policing service to a shire that is over 9000 square kilometres in size but we still need your help.

If you have witnessed reckless driving and you are able to identify the culprit, stand up and be counted. Report such behaviour so that it can be acted on, rather than grumble about it and do nothing.

Call Dave or myself at the Station on 9865 1007.

BURNOUT PAD

They say that idle hands are the devil's workshop and in recognition of this I have spoken to a number of young (and some not -so-young) drivers to find out what it takes to stop burnouts and anti-social driving on our public roads. The end result is that discussions are underway with respect to providing a burnout pad at the old speedway site.

As more information comes to hand, I will keep you informed.

LAKE GRACE COURT

Three people recently faced court on drink driving and other charges. All were fined and suspended from driving up to 2 years.

Think about this before you have that next drink that pushes you beyond the limit and puts the safety of all other road-users in jeopardy.

STATION CONTACT NUMBERS

Every effort is made to have an officer available for EMERGENCIES seven days a week, subject to leave commitments. From time to time the station will be unmanned to meet these commitments, at which time the station telephone (9865 1007) is diverted to Narrogin Station which operates 24hrs/7 days per week.

Remember, in life threatening emergencies, ring '000' first and your call will be answered immediately.

For non-urgent matters, please call either Lake Grace Police on the above number or Narrogin Station on 9881 1911

SCIENCE AND STUFF

WARMER World means fiercer hurricanes in Northern Hemisphere:- Hurricanes will become more destructive if the levels of carbon dioxide in the atmosphere continue to climb, suggests the most comprehensive computer modelling of hurricanes so far. Previous research has predicted similar trends, but these studies were limited because they usually depended on a single computer model of climate change. So scientists looked at nine different climate models predicting how the climate would warm up if CO₂ levels doubled over the next 80 years. Then they modelled the effect of these nine scenarios on hurricanes and found that the storms intensified regardless of the climate model used. Maximum wind speeds at the ocean surface increased by an average of 6 per cent and rainfall by 18 per cent. This could be devastating given that flooding accounts for most hurricane deaths. However, Atlantic hurricanes go through natural cycles of frequency and intensity, and it would be difficult to separate natural changes in hurricane intensity from those induced by human activity. (Journal of Climate, vol 17, p 3477).

Columbus in Spain:- DNA analysis suggests that Christopher Columbus really is buried in Seville, Spain. Geneticists found a match between the Seville bones and those belonging to Columbus's brother, Diego, though too little DNA remains intact for then to be certain. After Columbus was buried in the Dominican Republic his remains were supposedly returned to Spain, but islanders had claimed the Spaniards took the wrong body.

Genghis Khan's grave in site:- The elusive tomb of Genghis Khan, bloody warrior and father of an empire that once stretched from China to Hungary, is at last in reach. A joint team of archaeologists believes it has found the site of his 13th century palace and mausoleum, on a steppe about 240 kilometres east of the Mongolian capital, Ulan Bator. They say that if excavations of similar nearby sites from other dynasties are anything to go by, The burial place is likely to be within a 12 kilometre radius of the new find. Genghis Khan lived from 1162 to 1227, becoming leader of the Mongols in 1206. Other archaeologists have previously tried to track down his tomb, without success. There has been little to go on. According to legend, anyone who witnessed the route of the burial party, and all the servants and soldiers who attended the burial, were killed, in an attempt to preserve the secret. People living in the area believe opening the tomb would be tantamount to desecration. Local protests have called a halt to previous tomb-hunting expeditions. Further excavations around the site of the palace are planned. If the group does find Genghis Khan's tomb, it will be up to the Mongolian people to decide how they want to proceed. (New Scientist 16th October 2004).

ZAP! Some more bacteria are genetically modified:- Lightning is nature's own genetic engineer. By opening up pores in soil bacteria it allows them to pick up any stray DNA present. This hitherto unknown phenomenon might help explain why gene swapping is so common among bacteria. Mild electric shocks are routinely used to genetically engineer bacteria in the lab, so it was wondered whether lightning could have the same effect. Although it would kill bacteria near the point of contact, those further away would get a milder shock. Researchers persuaded physicists to blast bacteria with artificial lightning. So far they have shown that two strains of soil bacteria have shown to have changed DNA. The researchers suspect the phenomenon is widespread, speeding up the rate at which bacteria evolve. Genetic studies show bacteria frequently pick up foreign genes, usually from other bacteria, but natural DNA uptake rates are too sluggish to explain the observed diversity. Lightning might also have speeded up the evolution of the first bacteria. (Environmental Microbiology).

Trees implicated in air pollution:- It has been found that farmland reverting to scrub, pine plantations and the invasive sweetgum were behind most of the increases of volatile organic compounds in the US. Industry has cut emissions of pollutants dramatically, but those cuts have been more than offset by the amount churned out by trees, as some trees also churn out pollution. (Global Change Biology, vol 10, p 1737).

Adding a pinch of iron to an alloy whose temperature is governed by a magnetic field boosts the alloy's cooling capacity by 15 to 30 percent, pushing magnetic refrigeration a step closer to practicality.

Three transplant recipients have died from rabies contracted from the lungs, kidneys and liver of an Arkansas donor who was bitten by a rat. Treatment was also required by at least 174 other patients who may have been exposed through the victims.

LAKE GRACE DEVELOPMENT ASSOCIATION

At the October meeting we were very lucky to have Town Planner Joe Douglas attend our meeting. Joe explained the differences between Town Planning Scheme No.3 and Town Planning Scheme No.4 and was able to answer the many questions that we had for him. We were fortunate enough to also have Shire President, Darcy Roberts; Vice President, Andrew Walker and Acting Chief Executive Officer, Bill Bond attending. We thank them very much for attending and raising the level of their awareness of the issues that we are dealing with.

Items that were discussed included;

Tourism Promotions Committee. Unfortunately they did not have the AGM due to lack of numbers. This will now be held in November. They have a very busy month ahead with a number of meetings in various parts of the State and a photo shoot to organise for Australia's Golden Outback. The clean up by the Lions Club at the rifle range went ahead even though the vandals had done a lot of damage.

Youth Advisory Council. Now that we are in to the Fourth Term the amount of use that the Youth Station receives varies according to the weather, members tend to make good use of the pool. An activity night has been organised in conjunction with the Aquatic and Recreation Officer.

Roadwise. A new Road Safety Officer, Nadine Hendry, has just been appointed to replace Elizabeth Kelly. Nadine will be starting at the Narrogin office on Tuesday November 9th.

Accommodation Committee. The Developer is waiting on Shire to prepare necessary paper work.

There has been two meetings regarding the Walk Trails with eight being easily identified. CALM and the Water Corporation need to be contacted to clarify ownership of some areas.

Plans for celebrating the 90th Year of the School and the 60th year of CWA are proceeding well considering the short amount of time that has been put into the organising. Everyone is asked to notify friends and relations that this will be on Saturday the 6th of November.

Stationmasters House Action Group. It was intended that an agreement between this group and the Tourism Promotions Committee would be formalised for the running of the Visitors Centre. Unfortunately there was not enough representation from either group for this to take place.

Australia Day Awards. There was discussion on the different categories and the fact that we could not remember who had been past nominees.

There was also discussion on giving awards to businesses regarding the number of years of service to the community.

The next meeting of the Lake Grace Development Association will be on Monday 8th November at 7.30p.m. in the Shire Chambers, all welcome.

YOUTH ADVISORY COUNCIL

The meeting held last Wednesday resulted in Wednesday afternoon continuing to be the day the Youth Station remains open after school. It was decided that as the Friday evenings are taken up with basketball and camps this term that we will try to have some activities on Saturday afternoons. Some of the suggestions were In-Door cricket, Table Tennis Championships, Video nights, Quiz Nights, Soccer and Netball.

Last Friday we took advantage of our new Shire Aquatic and Recreation Officer, Letisha Marshall. Letisha had organised some physical challenges for the members to complete over a two hour period.

There were only a few girls present on the day which made things much easier to organise. After a one hour work out involving aerobic and anaerobic exercises the girls made up two teams and played Volleyball for an hour. They then returned to the Youth Station for the evening meal before being collected by their parents at 6.30p.m.

All in all it was a great afternoon of activities. Thanks to Letisha for organising the afternoon and the Mums for supervising. A special thanks to Louise Trevenen for supervising every Wednesday so far this term.

Welcome to Night Watch for the fortnight from midnight Friday 5th to midnight Friday 19th November. Astronomy is looking up.

Highlights this fortnight are three planets in the morning sky in the constellation of Virgo, and the meteor shower in the constellation of Leo at about a thousand an hour, if we are lucky enough to be in the right place at the right time.

The SUN is in the constellation of Libra for the fortnight and shines at -26.7 magnitude. The MOON moves into the night sky after twilight on the 14th at 8:55pm. On Friday the 12th the NEW MOON is at 11:17pm in Libra. The MOON on the 14th will be at Perigee (closest) at 362,311kms distant in Sagittarius at 10pm. The 1st quarter MOON is at 1:50pm in Aquarius on Friday the 19th. The MOON will be in Leo on the 6th and 7th. Virgo on 8th, 9th, 10th, and 11th. Libra on 12th. Scorpius on 13th. Sagittarius on 14th, 15th and 16th. Capricorn on 17th and 18th. Aquarius on 19th.

MERCURY is in Scorpius in the evening sky setting on Saturday at 8:07pm at -0.3 magnitude. On Wednesday 10th Mercury will have moved into the constellation of Ophiuchus, and on Sunday 14th will be 0.9 degrees north of the MOON. On the 19th, Mercury sets at 8.37pm.

VENUS at -4.0 magnitude rises at 3:34am in the morning sky in the Constellation of Virgo. On the 10th VENUS will be 0.2 degrees north of the MOON and 4 degrees north of the star Spica on the 16th. Venus rises at 3:27am on the 19th.

The red planet MARS, also in Virgo rises at 4:17am on the 6th at +1.6 magnitude. Mars will be at 0.5 degrees north of the MOON on the 11th, and on the 19th rises at 3:51am.

JUPITER, on Saturday rises at 3:30am in Virgo at 1.6 magnitude. On Wednesday 10th JUPITER will be 1.0 degrees south of the MOON and rises at 2:46am on the 19th.

The ringed planet SATURN, in Gemini rises on Saturday at 11:54pm at +0.5 magnitude, and rises at 10:59pm on the 19th.

URANUS at +5.8 magnitude in Aquarius sets at 1:57am on Saturday. On the 19th, URANUS, will be 4 degrees north of the MOON and sets at 1:06am.

NEPTUNE in Capricornus at +7.9 magnitude sets at 12:53am on Saturday. On the 18th NEPTUNE will be 5 degrees north of the MOON, and on the 19th, sets at 12:03am.

The very small planet PLUTO, sets at 9:05pm on Saturday in Serpens, and at 8:16pm on the 19th. Some METEORS can be seen in the morning sky on Friday 12th in Taurus, and on Wednesday 17th in LEO, there should be about 1000 per hour if the EARTH is in the right place for us to see them as there will be no Moon and should put on quite a show.

The darkest nights are on the onset of the NEW MOON on clear nights, and are the best for looking for hard to see objects in the night sky, and after storms is even better as they clear the dust out of the air.

To catch space dust leave out a saucepan or metal dish during storms and check how much there is as hundreds of tonnes of dust from space falls on Earth each day.

Are You Related to Yourself???

Many many years ago when I was twenty three,
 I got married to a widow who was pretty as could be.
 This widow had a grown-up daughter who had hair of red.
 My father fell in love with her and soon the two were wed.
 This made my dad my son-in-law and changed my very life.
 My daughter was my mother, for she was my father's wife.
 To complicate the matters worse, although it brought me joy.
 I soon became the father of a bouncing baby boy.
 My little baby then became a brother-in-law to dad.
 And so became my uncle though it made me very sad.
 For if he was my uncle, then that also made him brother
 To the widow's grown-up daughter who, of course, was my step-mother.
 Father's wife then had a son, who kept them on the run.
 And he became my grandson, for he was my daughter's son.
 My wife is now my mother's mother and it makes me blue.
 Because, although she is my wife, she is my grandma too.
 If my wife is my grandmother, then I am her grandchild.
 And every time I think of it, is simply drives me wild.
 For now I have become the strangest case you ever saw.
 As the husband of my grandmother, I am my own grandpa.

Deaths a Reminder on Loading of Trucks

The deaths of two truck drivers in similar circumstances this year have prompted a warning from WorkSafe on the safe loading of tilt-tray trucks.

Both men were killed when chain slings forming part of the winching equipment failed while they were loading containers onto tilt-tray trucks.

WorkSafe WA Commissioner Nina Lyhne said the similarities between the two deaths were alarming, and truck drivers and employers should view them as a warning to ensure safe systems of work were in place.

"The more recent death occurred only this month, when a truck driver loading a sea container onto a tilt-tray truck was struck by the hook attached to the winch rope that was part of equipment being used to winch the container onto the truck," Ms Lyhne said.

"The chain sling used to attach the container to the winch rope being used to pull the load failed, as it did when another truck driver lost his life in March this year.

"I'm sure these deaths are not the only incidents of this type, and it's likely there are many more similar incidents in workplaces that we don't know about because the workers involved are fortunately not injured.

"Truck drivers and employers should use these tragic incidents as a wake-up call to increase their vigilance when trucks are being loaded.

"Employers also need to ensure that adequate training and appropriate equipment are provided to all employees."

In both fatal incidents this year, the containers being loaded became snagged on the backs of the tilt trays, putting extra strain on the gear being used to the point where it snapped.

Winches, ropes, hooks and chains must be properly selected to be strong enough to withstand the load in the configuration in which they are being used.

All these items should be visually checked regularly for signs of stretching or deterioration, and replaced if necessary.

"It is not safe work practice to rely on simply watching the loading process and waiting for something to go wrong," Ms Lyhne said.

"This year's two tragic deaths should serve as a warning to make sure all equipment is in good working order, and that adequate training has been given in safe systems of work."

Further information on the loading of vehicles is available by telephoning WorkSafe on 9327 8777, or on the website at www.safetyline.wa.gov.au.

Be Active - Find 30

As part of Be Active week, Aquatic and Recreation Coordinator Letisha Marshall organised a 'Find 30' activity for Sunday 31st October.

Sixteen enthusiastic participants were taken on a scenic 3.3km walk around the lake and recreation reserve area. Following the walk those taking part enjoyed a healthy brunch at the swimming pool.

As Letisha continues on her campaign to get our community fitter, she hopes to incorporate more of these activities on a regular basis.

CHRISTMAS IS COMING!!!!!!

I love Christmas and the preparation that goes beforehand. One of the greatest pleasures in life (for me) is being able to cook for others and then share good food and friendship over a meal.

The trick for us all is to have everything completed days ahead so that we are not too worn out when our family and friends come to dine. Follow my Christmas Plan and all will be ready in the fridge or freezer by the second week in December, giving you plenty of time to get the house, presents etc. ready for the festive season.

Six Weeks To Go

Make the Christmas Cake.....

Sorry I don't have a recipe in print. My best recipe is not a secret but it does make up into 14 kgs of cake. I had hoped to have had it ready by now for the domestic kitchen – guess you will have to wait till next November. HOWEVER, follow my tips and you will still produce a winner.

Unless you have your own favourite then I suggest you use the recipe from the Golden Wattle Cookery Book – Christmas Cake (Twelfth Cake).

- Use brandy to soak your fruit in and for 48 hours not the recommended "overnight".
- After lining the cake tin wrap several layers of brown paper around the outside to further insulate. The slower the cake cooks the moister it will be.
- Before putting the cake in the oven smooth the top with damp hands and sprinkle glace fruit and nuts on the top.
- Once cake is cold remove it from the tin and brush with brandy.

Wrap in foil and store for 6 weeks in a cool dark place, eg the fridge.

Five Weeks To Go

Make the Christmas pudding

I have been making this pudding for over 40 years, just had to alter it a bit 5 years ago when it became too difficult to get suet any more. I have had to post this pudding to many parts of the world as our daughters refuse to have a Christmas dinner without Mum's pudding. Postage is often more than the pudding itself costs to make.

TRADITIONAL CHRISTMAS PUDDING

- 225g raisins
 - 25g sultanas
 - 225g currants
 - 225g butter
 - 225g brown sugar
 - zest of a lemon
 - 5 eggs
 - 225g plain flour
 - 1 teaspoon allspice
 - 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
 - 1/2 teaspoon cloves
 - 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
 - 1 teaspoon bi-carb soda
 - pinch salt
 - 110g breadcrumbs
 - 110ml brandy
- Cream butter and sugar together until light and fluffy.
 - Add eggs one at a time, beating well after each.
 - Add fruit and lemon zest.
 - Sift flour, spices, salt and bi-carb soda together.
 - Add to creamed mixture.
 - Stir in breadcrumbs and brandy.
 - Turn into a greased pudding tin or floured pudding cloth.
 - Boil for 6 hours.
 - To help prevent the pudding catching on the bottom, sit an upturned saucer on the bottom of the saucepan.
 - Store covered in the freezer or fridge.

Pudding will need to be boiled in the water for another 1-2 hours before eating.

Next Issue – Brandy Sauce and Butter, Fruit Mince Pies and Ice-Cream Cake

European Lottery Guild Warning

The Department of Consumer and Employment Protection is warning people about a mail out that contains a so-called 'mind boggling' offer where they can win millions of dollars through the European Lottery Guild.

This information has been sent out in 'The Yellow Envelope' which contains numerous offers and advertising for various products that was sent to a majority of private and residential mail boxes over the past week throughout regional WA.

By sending them your personal details they send you information which generally asks for your bank account or credit card details so they can deduct the costs to be part of the lottery syndicate.

It is illegal under the Gaming Commission Act to promote foreign lotteries or to sell and distribute tickets and consumers are warned to stay away from these offers.

Risks to consumers could be:

- ◆ You don't get a ticket - it's a syndicate share

- ◆ You must rely entirely on the operators to be honest
- ◆ You cannot easily check if you have won
- ◆ You can't check the legitimacy of the operators

Lottery type operations outside of Australia are almost always beyond the jurisdiction of our state and federal authorities

If anyone has seen received the European Lottery Guild card, do not fill it out or send any of your personal details.

Generally, you don't know how much they will deduct or where else your personal information could end up, so you could find yourself receiving many more unwanted offers

More information on this and other consumer issues is freely available by calling Consumer Protection on 1300 30 40 54 or by emailing consumer@docep.wa.gov.au.

TARIN ROCK TENNIS

Once again, an excellent roll up to Friday night tennis with four lit courts in constant use for the first two hours. Singles, doubles and mixed sets were all being played; some Dads can still beat their older sons, should Pat O'Neill be the new number 1!!!!!! Great to see new faces at the club and a big welcome to new community members Mark, Lisa and Josh Pearce.

Condolences from all club members to Christine Willock and family on the recent loss of her father who is well remembered by the club. Also to Nanette Wallace and her family on the sudden death of her sister; both these families are in our thoughts and prayers.

Our first pennant match for the season, against long standing rivals, Lake Grace saw Tarin Rock start the season with a convincing win- 23 sets, 171 games to 11 sets, 132 games. The score is not a true indication of the tennis which was hard fought all afternoon. There will be a few sore muscles this week - maybe a little more fitness training!!!! Well done all the caterers you provided an outstanding spread for the event.

This Friday, tennis as usual at 6pm sharp. Please let your captains know if you are unavailable for pennants at Pingaring this Sunday -12:30 arrival at Pingaring for a 1pm start. Sharon and Ross Robinson are responsible for cleaning the club house AFTER this Friday night tennis.

All club members a note for your diary; next Wednesday, November 3rd, there will be a busy bee hay cart. Times and locations to be discussed at tennis this Friday.

Tarin Rock travelled to Pingaring on Sunday for a great day of tennis. In perfect weather conditions Tarin Rock came out on top 25 to 9. Thanks to Pingaring for a fabulous day. Next week we will be playing Dumbleyung at Dumbleyung. Social/training will be on Friday night at 6.00pm sharp. BYO meat and salad to share. Cleaning roster this week to be done after Friday night is Vickio.

HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL

Friday 22nd October both of the Basketball teams travelled to Kulin for the evening.

The first game, which was running half an hour late, was Lake Grace Two playing against Kulin Yellow. At the half time break there was very little difference in the score, however by the end of the game the inexperience of Lake Grace was showing. The final score was Lake Grace Two 32 to Kulin Yellow 46.

The next game was much closer, Lake Grace One played Kulin White. At half time there was only two points difference, Lake Grace scored the next two goals putting them in front for a short time only. The final score was Lake Grace One 16, to Kulin White 18. A great game. Well done to all of the members, all played well. Thanks to Leon Clarke for coaching.

The Coaching Clinic held in Kulin on Saturday morning was very well supported with over 70 children attending. This clinic was organised by Ben Bryant, Shire Recreation Officer and taken by Bruce Nairn, State Coach. Ten children from Lake Grace attended the day and all learnt much from the experience.

The next set of fixtures were played on Thursday 28th with Lake Grace Two playing Kulin Blue at 7.00pm. This was another excellent game. Lake Grace was well in front at half time with the score at 22 to 10. However in the last half Kulin Blue came back and took the lead momentarily. The final score was Lake Grace Two 38 points to Kulin Blue 37.

Lake Grace one played at 7.50pm against Kulin Green. Kulin Green proved to be a very strong team having a convincing win of 64 points to Lake Grace 10 points. Many thanks to Debbie Beggs and Jane Bushby for scoring and generally supporting the teams during the last two weeks.

This Friday the 5th of November we travel by car to Kulin, the first game is Lake Grace One playing at 7.00p.m. and Lake Grace Two will play at 7.50pm.

LAKE GRACE TENNIS RACQUET

Lake Grace hosted it's second round match against Dumbleyung on Sunday in perfect conditions for playing tennis.

With a few inclusions to the side we were keen to improve on last weeks scare against Tarin Rock.

Dumbleyung started well however and after the doubles had a handy lead of 10-2. The singles and reverse doubles were fairly even with Lake Grace staring down the barrel going into the mixed doubles 16-6 sets down. A lot of the mixed doubles were split, one set each and overall Lake Grace were very competitive.

Final scores 24 sets to 10. Well done Bevan Taylor winning three sets in his first match back.

Pennants next week is against Pingaring at Pingaring so all names into Anna Taylor and Cameron Lloyd please.

There will be social tennis on Thursday afternoon starting at 5.30 and Sunday afternoon starting at 2.00 pm.

The weather has been great so why don't you come along for a hit.
