Unveiling of Community Pride

WA Governor Lieutenant General John Sanderson and Shire President Darcy Roberts following the unveiling of the plaque.

Many hours of hard work by local volunteers culminated with the commemoration of the Hospital's Mosaic Garden Gallery followed by the unveiling of the Australian Inland Mission Museum Interpretive Pathway Project on Wednesday 24th March.

Lieutenant General John Sanderson added a regal touch to an important day for Lake Grace Shire. More than one hundred local and past residents, school children and former employees of the AIM Hospital enjoyed the new colourful information panels that have been hung throughout the museum.

Following the unveiling of the plaque, Shire President Darcy Roberts invited everyone to walk the pathway and relive the struggle that our past residents took on to ensure medical facilities for Lake Grace and surrounding areas.

A new brochure detailing the history of the AIM hospital and its restoration is now available at Shire tourism outlets.

If in the opinion of Lakes Link News the error clearly reduces the value of the advertisement and the advertiser notifies it to Lakes Link News within seven days of the publication date, then one correct insertion will be made without charge.

EDITORIAL

- 1 Warm and fuzzy feelings are directed toward everyone that is submitting articles or advertising on time. Could contributors please endeavour to get their 'stuff' in by the deadline. If possible send your submissions in the week before, that takes the pressure off you and certainly makes it easier for us to be organised.
- 1 The Art Exhibition was, as per usual, a fabulous display of our local talent - great to see the 'Trash Art' that was exhibited by the school children. The beautiful framed mirror that we had all imagined hanging on our wall was won by 'lucky duck' Betty Naisbitt, congratulations Betty but it's my turn next year.
- 1 Remember that your local Telecentre is an access point for Centrelink, ATO and Medicare. We have a selection of Centrelink and ATO forms available, and can download information for you from the internet. Centrelink have provided us with a fax for YOUR use, you can send the faxes yourself, or get Telecentre staff to help you. Our Medicare booth provides you with a direct line to submit your Medicare claims, we DON'T have claim forms available. By ringing your claim through you don't need to fill out any forms, very easy as the operator at the other end talks you through it. No phone queues either. Unfortunately we don't provide a free postal service for any of these agencies.
- 1 The Telecentre volunteers, committee and staff would like to wish everyone an enjoyable and safe Easter. The Telecentre will be open as per normal over the school holidays, the library hours are on page 24. The next Lakes Link News comes out in the second week of the school holidays, prior to the Anzac long weekend.

- Congratulations to Bradd and Kalli Gardiner who got married on 26th March under the stars at the Araluen Botanical Gardens.
- Well done to Michelle and Paul Cameron on the arrival of Joshua Paul on Monday 29th March, Joshua weighed in at 8lb 3oz. There has been a baby boom with ex Lake Grace residents; all the best to Paul and Nicole Brown on the arrival of Molly, and to Heather Williams and partner who have also had a baby girl.
- Congratulations to Mr and Mrs Dickins who exchanged vows on the weekend, well done Lawrie and Lois and all the best for a wonderful future together. After a brief hiccup (what wedding doesn't have a hiccup?) while attempting to depart from the church, Mr Kellow came to the rescue with his trusty jumper leads.
- Love is in the air with Misha Clarke and James Eaton recently announcing their engagement, congratulations and best wishes to you both
- Betina Lay has just completed a two day workshop at the Sunday Times. One student (year 11 or 12) from each school completed this inaugural work experience program (set up in 2004) that aims to give students an understanding of journalism and the newspaper industry.
- Best wishes to 'part time' Lake Grace resident Mitchell Morton in the forthcoming U/17 International Football Series against Ireland. Mitchell, who is a boarder at Hale School, earned the right to represent Australia following the National 16's Football Championships in Adelaide in 2004 - which West Australia won! The Tri-Series begins in Brisbane on Thursday (as a curtain-raiser to the Brisbane vs Collingwood AFL match). The teams then go on to Melbourne for a second encounter before the Final match on Thursday 15th April at Fremantle Oval. We wish Mitchell the 'best of luck' and look forward to seeing him back in Lake Grace soon!!

NIGHT WATCH

Welcome to Night Watch for the fortnight from midnight Friday 9th to midnight Friday 23rd April.

This fortnight there are four planets in the early night sky. From the west to the east is, Venus at -4.4, Mars at 1.5, Saturn at 0.1 and Jupiter at -2.4. Our local star, the Sun, resides in the constellation of Pisces until Sunday 18th, when it will have moved into Aries.

On Monday 12th, the Moon will be at its last quarter phase at 11.46am in the constellation of Capricornus at 374,200kms from earth at -6.0 mag. The new Moon is at 9.11pm on Monday 19th in the constellation of Aries at a distance of 397,900kms.

Mercury in Aries, moving from the evening sky to the morning twilight on Sunday 18th, rises eight minutes earlier each morning.

Venus, at a very bright -4.4 magnitude, sets around 8pm, is in the constellation of Taurus. On the 16th, Venus will be ten degrees north of the bright orange/red star Aldebaran, the eye of the bull.

On Friday 23rd, Venus will be 1.5 degrees north of the Moon. The red planet, Mars, at 1.5 magnitude, sets around 8.36pm in Taurus. Mars and Venus will be close together on 23rd and 24th April.

The giant gas planet, Jupiter at a bright -2.4 magnitude is in Leo and sets around 3.30am.

Saturn the ringed planet, is in the constellation of Gemini at 0.1 mag. The blue/green planet, Uranus, rises around 2.54am in Aquarius, and will be 4 degrees north of the Moon on the 15th, and at 5.9 magnitude. Neptune at 7.9 magnitude is in Capricornus, rising around 1.15am, and will be 5 degrees north of the Moon on Wednesday 14th.

The distant small planet, Pluto, rises around 9.35pm, in the constellation of Serpens at 13.8 magnitude.

If you look from the Cross and follow the dark gas and dust lanes to the east, you should be able to make out the head and neck, then the body and legs of the Emu, and if you look hard enough you can see the star that is the eye. The Emu goes from the Southern Cross to Sagittarius and is fairly large and easy to make out.

There should be a few meteors in the night sky this fortnight.

Sunrise times are: Sat 10th—6.24am;
Sun 11th and Mon 12th—6.25am;
Tues 13th—6.26am; 14th and 15th—6.27am;
Fri 16th—6.28am; 17th and 18th—6.29am;
Mon 19th—6.30am; 20th and 21st—6.31am;

Thurs 22nd—6.32am; Fri 23rd—6.33am.

Sunset times are: Sat 10th—5.51pm;
11th—5.50pm; 12th—5.49pm; 13th—5.48pm;
14th—5.47pm; 15th—5.45pm; 16th—5.44pm;
Sat 17th—5.43pm; 18th—5.42pm; 19th—5.41pm;
20th—5.40pm; 21st—5.30pm; 22nd—5.38pm and
Fri 23rd at 5.37pm.

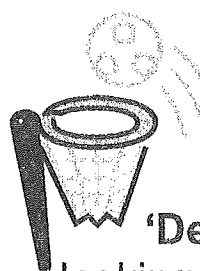

With the Moon rising after 9.30pm on Saturday it is a good time to look through the telescope, as the planets, Saturn and Jupiter with their moons, rings, the great red spot on Jupiter and also the moons and shadows in transit across the face. There are also plenty of galaxies, star clusters, planetary nebulas, the Emu and other types of nebulas to see. Now in the morning sky in the north-east is Comet C/linear (2002) in the constellation on Pisces at magnitude 2.4, you should be able to see it by eye and easily with binoculars.

On May 5th, there will be a total eclipse of the moon starting at 1.51am and going through to 7.10am, with the middle of the eclipse being at 4.30am.

Remember all visitors are welcome at any time even to have a close look at the moon or a safe look at the sun, or have the constellations pointed out.

Maurie Gilson - member of the Astronomical Society of Western Australia.

Home Buyers Assistance Fund

Many people would be aware of the Federal First Home Buyers Grant of $7,000 which has been so eagerly sort by many first home buyers in recent years.

However, there is an additional grant available to first home buyers from the WA Department of Consumer and Employment protection which is not so widely known about.

The Home Buyers Assistance Fund, (administered by this department) provides a grant of up to $2,000 for the incidental expenses of first home buyers.

This grant of $2,000 can be sort in addition to the $7,000 previously mentioned.

The Home Buyers Assistance Fund is funded from the interest paid on real estate agents trust accounts in Western Australia and can be used for costs like stamp duty, conveyancing fees, valuation fees and a range of other costs associated with the purchase.

There are some basic guidelines which determine whether an application for this $2,000 grant is successful and these include:

- The purchase must be of an established or partially built home.

- The purchase must be made through a licensed real estate agent.
- The applicant (including the spouse or partner) must not have previously owned any property in the State of Western Australia
- The loan must be sourced through an authorised lending institution.

The value of the purchase cannot exceed $125,000 in city & country areas; $170,000 in remote areas; or $190,000 in the Kimberley.

Further information can be seen on the website sponsored by the Real Estate and Business Agents Supervisory Board (www.reba.wa.gov.au). Application Forms and further information are available by calling 1300 30 40 54 or using the Home Buyers Assistance Fund's direct number, (08) 9282 0836.

Ageing in Place Survey Results

Thank you to all who took the time to reply to this survey, with a total of 198 people sending in their opinions on aged care accommodation in the Lake Grace district.

The results confirm that a large portion of the community (96% of responses) support the concept of improved choices of aged care accommodation being available.

There was a lot of interest in the possibility of renting or purchasing a lifestyle unit in the future:

- 86 people expressed an interest in retiring locally
- 47 people indicated that they would be requiring accommodation in 5–10 yrs
- 29 people are interested in purchasing a lifestyle unit
- Within the next 10 years, 26 people will be requiring accommodation
- 55% of total respondents believe there should be a choice of local hostel accommodation.

The public meeting held on the 9th March was very well attended and a lot of valid points were raised.

The Cost of Falls In Older Adults in WA

The Department of Health statistics reveal that by the year 2021 it is forecast falls will cost the WA health system $174 million. In the year 2001/2002 falls cost the health system $83 million.

By 2021, the number of people presenting at emergency departments as a result of falls will be more than double the current number of 18,706.

Seniors falls prevention is a state health priority and falls prevention programs play an important role to reduce the incidence and severity of fall-related injuries.

If you are over 50 years, you are welcome to join the Stay On Your Feet Program (SOYF). Alternatively we conduct the Chair Aerobics exercise group. Both are held weekly on Tuesdays. These programs are designed assist in falls prevention for older adults. For more information contact the Hospital on 98651206.

Special thanks to Walker's Vineyard for their sponsorship of the team uniform shirts.

Mosaic project co-ordinator Kerrie Argent speaking at the Hospital's Mosaic Garden Gallery Commemoration. Following the commemoration Governor Sanderson (left) was invited by Mrs Argent to place the final mosaic.

The finished product.

Where's mine?

Initiated by the Lake Grace Shire, the AIM project was dually funded by the Shire and Lotterywest.

The Mosaic project which was co-ordinated by Kerrie Argent, was created and completed by volunteers.

Two hundred and sixty mosaics were created signifying family, friends, community groups and businesses. Phyllis Dunham was tireless in her efforts, creating many on behalf of others.

If a paver took 8 hours to create (erring on the side of caution), then 2,080 hours were given up by volunteers. This does not take into account the days spent grouting and installing. If a basic rate of $15 was paid for the hours put in, the bill would come in at around $35,000. This doesn't include the donations of tiles, slabs and limestone blocks.

Suzanne Reeves

Report as read by Daniel Trevenen (above), LGDHS President of the Student Council

The report describes the town of Lake Grace as it was back in 1926.

"The town of Lake Grace is not at all pretty – scarcely any paling (that means picket) fences, mostly broken wire.

Cows and horses wander about on the streets which are quite unformed.

Most of the houses are unpainted jarrah weather board".

The report then goes on to list the shops in the town:

One Barber's, Men's Clothing and Billiard Saloon

combined

One large General and Draper store run by a co-operative

The WA Bank - a tiny wooden structure which does immense business

One "Sunshine" Machinery Agency

One General Store run by a Wagin firm

One bootmaker

Two butchers

Two refreshment rooms (one combined with a green grocer)

One newsagency and green grocer

One motor garage

One land and estate agent and many agencies combined

Two general boarding houses

Two wood depots with general carrying depot attached to each

One very nice Post Office just recently completed – we have a new telephone number (number 11) and a letter box (PO Box 33)

One Police Station

One School with two young lady teachers – 30 to 40 children attend

One Town Hall – Church of England and Roman Catholic church services are held here once a month – The Church of England Bush Brother always comes to the hospital. He is known as "Harold Lloyd", wears similar glasses and looks very much like the movie star.

One Methodist Church – small

This report was written August 6, 1926 and sent to the Australian Inland Mission Board in Sydney by Sister Helen Cousin, one of the original nurses-in-charge of the Lake Grace AIM Hospital. You will see this report displayed on one of the new information panels inside the hospital museum.

Avoiding the Hard Sell

Have you ever wondered why it is so hard to get away from a high pressure sales pitch? How is it that you find it difficult to get away from sales staff without being rude?

An article published by Queensland Fair Trading recently, shows the sales techniques employed in high pressure sales to capture or trap unsuspecting consumers.

Next time you are approached, it might be fun to see how many of the strategies you can identify as they try to manipulate you into buying what they are selling.

Here are some of the techniques:

1. RECIPROCATION. Making you feel obligated after you have accepted a "free" gift or offering you a "special" deal.

2. COMMITMENT. Getting you to commit to something early in the conversation ("Yes, I can't argue with that....") and then later in the conversation, recalling that earlier agreement to force you into agreeing to more! Don't let yourself be bullied.

3. SOCIAL PROOF. Everyone is buying one, so it must be a great deal and you need one too! Are they really? Just because the salesperson says something, does that make it true?

4. LIKING. Using their good looks, charm, flattery, sob stories or humour to earn your trust. They're so nice, you really should help them out, or should you?

5. AUTHORITY. Authority in or out of uniform causes an automatic response in most people and is often used to gain agreement. Is this "authority" relevant to the sale? Verify the authority if you can.

6. SCARCITY. This is the last chance! Stocks are limited! Are they really? This technique attempts to rush you and prevent you from thinking things through or shopping around.

For more information on your rights when shopping, the WA Department of Consumer and Employment Protection has a free booklet which is available on request. (Some people know us as "Fair Trading" or "Consumer Affairs"). Our contact number is 1300 30 40 54 and free advice is also available on your particular situation.

SCIENCE AND STUFF

THAT'S LIFE: Ornithologist Graham Appletton said, "It was terrible, the bird did not live to enjoy its moment of fame," about an American Robin that had made its way to the UK, only to be caught by a sparrow hawk as birdwatchers gathered to see it.

WORLD'S OLDEST FRESH WATER:

Groundwater under the Egyptian Sahara is up to a million years old—the oldest fresh water so far discovered. While the Sahara is bone dry today, it covers one of the world's largest freshwater aquifers, a relic of its rainier past. The aquifer flows into the dry Gattarah Depression, where it evaporates and is wasted. It could supply 2 billion cubic metres a year to northern Egypt.

DIAMONDS FLOWED ON EARLY EARTH: Can diamonds exist in liquid form? Only if you put carbon under massive pressure and heat it to the temperature at the surface of the sun. Diamonds may have formed this way early on in earth's history when the planet was a hotter and more violent place. Simulations in Amsterdam suggest that squeezing hot fluid carbon forces groups of atoms to link up with their neighbours to save space. These small groups form the tetrahedral shapes found in solid diamonds but they are constantly breaking apart and reforming, so the material stays liquid rather than forming a crystal. The conditions at which diamonds are liquid are too extreme to create in a lab today—the temperature must exceed 6000 degrees Kelvin, while the pressure must be a million times greater than the earth's atmosphere exerts. But these conditions could have existed on our planet when it was young. Any process that cooled the liquid quickly would have created solid diamonds.

BIRD PROOF POISONS: Killing predatory pests like rats and possums with poisoned bait helps protect rare bird species. But if the birds eat the bait they die too. So a company has been experimenting with additives that deter many birds from eating poison, a small dose of a chemical called pulegone makes the bait smell of mint and deters casual pecking. A little anthraquinone makes the bird feel ill after a small peck, and a bright blue dye helps the bird to remember what makes it ill. After four days robins were pecking blue bait 10 times less often than ordinary bait. Fortunately, rats and possums never learn.

DID YOU KNOW?:

The Kelvin scale is a temperature scale used by scientists. It begins at absolute zero (-273.16°C) and increases by the same degree intervals as the Celsius scale; that is 0°C is the same as 273 k and 100°C is 373 k.

Between 2900 and 2800 BC, the Great Pyramid of Giza is built as a tomb for Egyptian Pharaoh Cheops (Khu-fu). The base is almost a perfect square, with the greatest deviation from a right angle only 0.05 percent; the orientation of its sides is exactly north-south and east-west.

The first version of Stonehenge is constructed on the Salisbury Plain. It consists of an earthen bank and a ditch, along with 56 pits known as Aubrey Holes, after John Aubrey, who discovered them.

Also, Sumerian writing progresses from simple pictographs to symbols that can represent syllables. This greatly extends the scope of written language, a key element in the transition of the representation of proper names with symbols that stand for the parts of the name.

Between 3000 and 2901 BC, donkeys and mules are domesticated in what is now Israel; camels in what is now Iran and Arabia; and elephants in India. Cotton is cultivated in India and the Babylonians predict eclipses.

Between 2600 and 2501 BC the Chinese use a vertical pole to project the sun's shadow to estimate time.

Australia Day Awards

Active Citizenship Award

The Committee of the Lake Grace Development Association have much pleasure in nominating Mrs Mary Naisbitt for the Premier's Australia Day Active Citizenship Awards for Lake Grace. The following items are just some of the many things that Mary has been involved in over many years that make her a worthy nominee for this position.

In the past, Lake Grace Cemetery was in much need of beautification. Mary belongs to the 'Friends of the Cemetery' and was instrumental in achieving what we see today. This included a plaque and garden dedicated to the neo-natal and stillborn babies in unmarked graves, the garden plants on the driveway, plinth wall, gazebo, water tank and the organizing of the annual busy bees. She is currently liaising with the Shire for plaques for unlisted graves of people that do not have a family connection in Lake Grace.

Mary was one of the early members of the Aged Care Committee formed in 1993 which resulted in the existing Lakes Village complex. This involved lobbying the Shire for the retention and restoration of the Masonic Lodge which had been vested in the Shire for use for the aged. It also involved fundraising for the seven units and negotiating with Homeswest and the State Housing Authority. Mary later became President of this committee and is still one of the main contacts on the unit allocation committee.

In Lake Grace we are lucky to have had our Railway Station restored. Mary was also on the committee that took on this very difficult venture. The Station is a great asset and is currently being use by the youth of our town.

The Australian Inland Mission Hospital was another building in town that was in danger of demolition in 1985, when only one vote separated it from being lost to future generations, forever. This historic building was restored, with the help of community volunteers and has been retained for our community. Mary is still on the committee responsible for the maintenance and promotion of the building.

Mary is the Central South Tourism delegate for the Lake Grace Shire, a position that she took on while a Councillor. She travels many kilometres to attend the meetings and workshops necessary to remain informed and to promote our area. She had also been the President of the Lake Grace Tourism Promotions Committee for many years, a position she still hold in a caretaker capacity. Mary regularly attends meetings of the Lake Grace Development Association, keeping us all informed of the happenings of the group.

Mary is also very dedicated to land care and was involved in the tree planting within the Lake Grace town site. She is also a CALM representative for this area, and very much involved in the Rare Flora Group working with Anne Rick from Newdegate to establish a herbarium in Lake Grace.

Mary became a Shire Councillor in 1993. While on the Shire she was very active on many of the committees as well as taking on the positions of Council Delegate for other organizations. In 2003 Mary did not seek re-election to the Lake Grace Shire – she had given ten years of dedicated service to the Shire.

Last year, Lake Grace Telecentre was in need of committee members and Mary again volunteered her time to assist them.

Mary is one of the 48 women depicted on the Lake Grace mural for her contribution to the community, and her story is therefore recorded in the book Far Site—Women of the Salt Lake Country.

We are sure that you will agree with us the Mary is a very worthy nominee for the position of Premier's Australia Day Active Citizenship Awards for Lake Grace.

Active Citizenship Award - 25 years and under

Narelle Lucas was nominated by Lake Grace Development Association for the 2003 Premier's Australia Day Active Citizenship Award—25 Years and Under.

Narelle became the caring face of the Lake Grace Library during her three years of service to the community. As a teacher/librarian she treats everyone equally, her spontaneity and approachable nature mean people feel comfortable utilizing the resources that the library provides.

Outside her formal role, Narelle's greatest contribution was the high quality of informal contacts she made with students, parents, colleagues and other community members.

- As a member of the Lake Grace Hockey team she contributed to the social side of the sport, helping to organize fundraising events. Narelle also coached students for last year's Country Week hockey, giving many hours of her own time.
- For two years, Narelle coordinated the school Morrison magazine which involved many out-of-school hours. She not only edited the magazine but also provided support to other staff enabling them to present their student's work for posterity.
- Narelle coordinated the 2002 Year 10 graduation dinner. Never far from the action, she helped students with preparation over a three month period and also spent many hours working with the P & C in the kitchen when catering was required.
- Narelle volunteered as a supervisor of the Youth Station and on many occasions organized quiz and video nights. School camps would also see Narelle involved and spending many hours helping and being one of the students.

- Over the past three years, Narelle gave up nearly every lunch hour to keep the library open, encouraging students to read and open up their lives to the world of books. After school she could be found helping students with research and homework.
- When university students needed help with Fine Arts, Narelle was only too willing to give up several of her evenings and weekends to instruct them on the use of a digital camera and power point presentation.

Narelle has had such a positive impact on so many younger and older people who visit our library, that she will leave a lasting impression on the lives of many in our community.

Narelle has a friendly and interactive way with students yet still manages to command a healthy and professional respect from them. Narelle's caring attitude and eagerness to help was also very evident when one of her colleagues needed help after surgery.

Narelle left our town this year and it is with confidence and pleasure that the Lake Grace Development Association nominate her, and by so doing acknowledge her great contribution to our community.

Ed: Narelle is now enjoying life as teacher/librarian in the small town of Northcliffe, in the State's south-west.

Active Citizenship Award - Community Event

Lake Grace Telecentre's book launch Far Site—Women of the Salt Lake Country was honoured with the 2003 Active Citizenship Award for a Community Event. Residents of the Shire of Lake Grace nominated the event for 'bringing community together and for fostering a sense of pride in local history and achievements.' The book, tracing the lives of 48 women from the shire, was also warmly acknowledged by Professor Fiona Stanley.

About 150 people, including former residents and families of the book subjects attended the launch in December last year. Guests of honour included seven of the women whose stories are told in Far Site by local writer Michelle Slarke. Hyden farmer, writer and former CWA magazine editor Sally Nicholl officially launched the book in front of the women's mural. A launch was also held in Perth at the State Library where Sister Veronica Brady was guest speaker.

Machine Guarding Essential

WorkSafe inspectors are conducting an inspection program this month to make sure machinery in workplaces is adequately guarded.

WorkSafe Acting Executive Director Nina Lyhne said today that inspectors were still finding examples of inadequate or no guarding of machinery on a regular basis.

“The number of recent court cases involving inadequate guarding is an indication that the message on guarding is still not getting through,” Ms Lyhne said.

“It is absolutely crucial that the moving parts of machinery are adequately guarded, and WorkSafe inspectors will be coming down hard on employers who do not provide a safe workplace by ensuring that this is done.

“Many serious workplace incidents can be completely avoided if safety is built into the initial design of machinery.

“If machinery is built considering all the risks and with appropriate guarding, the chance of human error causing an injury is significantly reduced.”

Manufacturers of machinery are legally required to make sure dangerous parts are safely guarded so operators are protected from injury, and operators are under an obligation to leave guards in place when machinery is being operated.

“Guarding is the oldest and most easily understood method for minimising the risk of injury to machine operators, and it has been required by occupational safety and health legislation for a long time,” Ms Lyhne said.

“Despite this, inspectors still regularly find that guards have never been provided or have been removed and not replaced after maintenance or repairs.

“The consequences can be absolutely tragic, and we have recently instigated a number of prosecutions against companies whose failure to guard machines have resulted in employees suffering the amputation of fingers or even entire limbs.

Country Women's Association Lake Grace Branch

The Country Women's Association began in WA in 1924. The aim of the Association was, and still is, to improve the welfare and conditions of life of people everywhere, especially those living in the country. CWA also aims to foster friendship, understanding and to encourage co-operation and community effort.

Isolation was one of the problems to be overcome. Although CWA was formed to meet the needs of the time, changes continue in the organization to meet today's needs. Even with modern methods of communication, people can still be isolated. Friendships made through CWA's supportive network can help to improve this.

Membership is open to all women over sixteen years of age. They can find friendship, fellowship and fun.

There are 189 branches in metropolitan and country WA. Each member pays an annual subscription to the branch of her choice.

Branches meet monthly for business and social activities. Each branch belongs to a Division which comprises a group of neighbouring branches. The presidents of each of the 15 Divisions, with the 5 elected State Officers, form the CWA State Council. A State Conference is held annually and each branch has a vote.

CWA House is situated in West Perth and has motel type accommodation for members and the public. One floor is occupied by the Association's Head Office and boardroom, while 3 floors are rented out as office space. There are rooms for choir, drama and handicraft groups to meet. The CWA shop is also in the building. It is open on weekdays and has a stock of items made by members available for sale. CWA House is on the red CAT bus service on Hay Street

Rural Information Service provides much needed information about services available in such areas as health, education and welfare.

D'Orsogna's Short Weight Meets Prosecution

Company and Director Fined For Misleading Consumers

Meat and small goods giant D'Orsogna has been fined more than $18,000 plus costs of $1,484 and its Managing Director Bradley Thomas Thomason fined $2,600, for offences under the Fair Trading and Weights and Measures Acts.

Following a complaint from a consumer that she had received underweight pre-packaged meat, an investigation by Consumer Protection officers revealed that 22 out of 126 D'Orsogna products tested were underweight by more than 5%.

D'Orsogna asserted that this had occurred because the company's slicing machine was faulty.

"Operations like D'Orsogna have a responsibility to the public to ensure that their equipment is always kept in good order if it is used to produce goods which are to be sold by weight", Consumer Protection Commissioner Patrick Walker said.

"Consumers must be able to trust what they read on food labels and this was not the case here.

"The Department had previously communicated some concerns to the company about underweight articles that had been detected, which apparently were not heeded.

"The fines handed down show that the Courts also take weights and measures issues very seriously", Mr Walker said.

Consumer Protection prosecuted D'Orsogna under the Fair Trading Act in addition to the Weights and Measures Act to exemplify the seriousness of making false representations to members of the public.

SPECIFIED AREA RATE POLICY AMENDMENT

Following last year's Specified Area Rate (SAR) Policy survey, Council agreed to review the voting requirements of its SAR policy to encourage greater voter participation with a view to obtaining more certainty in regard to the community's needs.

Previous surveys have shown positive support for projects but were lost on the grounds that the non-returned votes, often as high as 40%, are counted as a NO vote.

Council, and many in the community, are concerned that the current arrangements may result in important infrastructure upgrades being deferred or not undertaken, to the detriment of the community's capacity to attract and retain business and people.

Accordingly, Council at its 24 March 2004 Ordinary meeting, agreed to amend Policy 3.3 Specified Area Rate as follows:

"... for a project to proceed, a "yes" result requires more than 50% of returned votes being in favour of the proposal."

Projects will still require endorsement by the community and must be considered by Council as worthy of support.

YOUTH ADVISORY COMMITTEE

The weekend of the 3rd and 4th of April turned out to be just perfect for the National Youth Week Activity organised for Lake Grace. We ended up with 15 eager young artists ready to listen to and be taught by Community Artist Lesley King.

The possibilities are endless

Saturday morning some basic drawing and design was done on paper. Before lunch everyone was allocated a 1.2m x 1.8m villa board which they undercoated ready for a practice. After lunch with the undercoat now dry the boards were shifted outside and Lesley gave instructions on how to use the paint and safety rules were clearly given. Lesley then demonstrated different techniques before everyone went off to practice on their own boards, it ended up being a bit harder than it looked. The boards were undercoated again ready for the real thing the next day.

Safety instructions before experimenting with the spray cans.

Sunday most participants turned up bright and sparky, (except some that had sleep overs and also one that went off to watch a basketball grand final in Narrogin). Sunday morning we all had to put our designs from the Saturday morning on a smaller page to scale so that this could then be transposed to the much larger villa boards. This resulted in a few alterations to the designs when some realised they had too much empty space. The boards were again shifted outside and the painting started in earnest. The end result is some truly wonderful art work. Should anyone have time to and wishes to look at the work it is presently located in the old Four Square Building.

Jayne Argent adding some finishing touches

Many thanks must go to the people who helped all of this take place; the Argent and Spencer families for the use of the Four Square building, Michelle Slarke for assisting with the grant submissions, Kerrie Argent and Debby Clarke for their time over the weekend. Also thanks to Country Arts, Youth Advisory Council, PCAP and CCL for their financial assistance.

Almost there!

LAKE GRACE TENNIS RACKET

The Lake Grace Tennis Club season officially closed a fortnight ago with the club Championship Singles and Doubles. The ladies numbers were low due to several other distractions (weddings etc) on the same weekend. However the competition was still keen.

Anna Taylor defeated Danielle Robertson to become the 2003/04 Ladies Singles Champion. It was a good day for Anna as she partnered Cassandra Haskett to defeat Fiona Chatfield and Danielle Robertson in a close three set match. Well done, ladies, for ensuring the competition went ahead.

The Men's Doubles was a round robin format with Jason Muir and James Eaton defeating Cameron Lloyd and Joe Galantino 9-7 in the deciding match.

James Eaton won his way through to the Men's Singles final with some hard hitting athletic tennis. Close matches with Joe Galantino and Bevan Taylor showed how even our regular pennant players are.

Ross Bowron's progress was a little easier to the final although his serve was broken in matches against Cameron Lloyd and Jason Muir.

James and Ross went serve for serve until Ross broke James' serve. James came back and had an opportunity to clinch the match. Ross held serve and the tie breaker went to a tense 10-8 in Ross's favour.

Well done to all the men who played and we look forward to next season. There will be unofficial tennis at 2.00pm on Sundays while the weather holds up. The AGM is postponed until the start of next season.

The Best Job in the World

POSITION: Mother, Mum, Mama

JOB DESCRIPTION: Long term, team players needed for challenging permanent work in an often chaotic environment. Candidates must possess excellent communication and organizational skills and be willing to work variable hours, which will include evenings and weekends and frequent 24-hour shifts on call. Some overnight travel required, including trips to primitive camping sites on rainy weekends and endless sports tournaments in faraway cities. Travel expenses not reimbursed. Extensive courier duties also required.

RESPONSIBILITIES: The rest of your life. Must be willing to be hated, at least temporarily, until someone needs $5. Must be willing to bite tongue repeatedly. Also must possess the physical stamina of a pack mule and be able to go from zero to 100kph in three seconds flat in case, this time, the screams from the backyard are not just someone crying wolf. Must be willing to face stimulating technical challenges, such as small gadget repair, mysteriously sluggish toilets and stuck zippers. Must screen phone calls, maintain calendars and co-ordinate production of multiple homework projects. Must have ability to plan and organize social gatherings for clients of all ages and mental outlooks. Must be willing to be indispensable one minute and embarrassing the next. Must handle assembly and product safety testing of a half million cheap plastic toys, and battery operated devices. Must always hope for the best but be prepared for the worst. Must assume final, complete accountability for the quality of the end product. Responsibilities also include floor maintenance and general cleaning work throughout the facility.

POSSIBILITY FOR ADVANCEMENT AND PROMOTION: Virtually none. Your job is to remain in the same position for years, without complaining, constantly retaining and updating your skills, so that those in your charge can ultimately surpass you.

PREVIOUS EXPERIENCE: None required unfortunately. On the job training offered on a continually exhausting basis.

WAGES AND COMPENSATION: You pay them, offering frequent rises and bonuses. A balloon payment is due when they turn 18 because of the assumption that tertiary education will help them become financially independent. When you die, you give them whatever is left. The oddest thing about this reverse-salary scheme is that you actually enjoy it and only wish you could do more.

Fiery Ferrari

Modena, Italy: The Ferrari F1 team fired their entire pit-crew yesterday. The announcement was followed by Ferrari's decision to take advantage of the New Zealand Government's "Work for the Dole" scheme and hire unemployed youths from Auckland.

The decision to hire them was brought on by a recent documentary on how unemployed youths in South Auckland were able to remove a set of car wheels in less than six seconds without proper equipment, whereas Ferrari's existing crew can only do it in eight seconds.

This was thought to be an excellent yet bold move by Ferrari management and, as most races are won or lost in the pits, Ferrari would have an advantage over every team.

However Ferrari expectations were easily exceeded, as during the crew's first practice session not only were "da boys" able to change the tyres in under six seconds, but within twelve seconds they had resprayed, rebadged and sold the vehicle over to the McLaren Team for four dozen Lion Red stubbies and a tinnie.

Shred of evidence

A young executive was leaving the office at 6.00pm when he found the CEO standing in front of a shredder with a piece of paper in his hand. "Listen", said the CEO, "this is a very sensitive and important document, and my secretary has left. Can you make this thing work?"

"Certainly," said the young executive. He turned the machine on, inserted the paper and pressed the start button.

"Excellent, excellent!" said the CEO as his paper disappeared inside the machine, "I just need one copy."

Lesson learnt. Never, never assume that your boss knows everything.

LAKE GRACE GOLF CLUB

There was a great turnout of twenty eight players and a few spectators for night golf on Saturday 27th March. Wonderful to see a large contingent of teachers, and a few zealous junior golfers that just wanted to show the teachers a thing or two.

After a sausage sizzle, players went forth to conquer fairways, greens, trees and whatever else got in the way.

Winners on the night were Chad Stanton, Stuart and Jodie Blackwood and Gavin Stevens on an admirable 24 shots for 5 holes. A 'glad to be back in the club house' Jodie swears that Chad carried them all the way.

A good time was had by all, though Betty states that she had lost her glow well before the last hole. The Lay Family (Jeff, Steph and Jason) were the thrilled recipients of the NAGA.

The golf season starts on Saturday 17th April with a two person mixed ambrose. Names need to be in by 12:15pm with hit off at 12:30pm. Green fees are $5 a head. You don't need to be a golfer, just come along and enjoy a great day.

No dates have yet been set for Junior Golf, though it will get underway once school goes back.

"Who is this man?"

Capt. Derek McCartney (C.A.)

Anglican Parish - Lk. Grace & Wagin

Even before it opened in Australia on the 25th of February, the film "The Passion of the Christ" had been in the news for months. Now that it has been showing for over a month, the interest and comment it continues to generate across every spectrum of society is quite phenomenal. But what is it about "The Passion of the Christ" that touches something in human beings across the world and across the boundaries of culture and religion, including the religions of materialism and secularism? Because, as far as the violent nature of death by crucifixion goes, Jesus' death was not as violent as other recorded events in Jewish or world history - before or since - nor was He crucified alone. Two other men died alongside Him. What about them? We do not even know their names, yet their ordeal on their crosses lasted longer than Jesus' did.

This tells us then that the central feature of Jesus' death is not so much the physical suffering. Rather, it is who He claims to be that is central to the last hours of the life of this one man who changed the world forever. Therefore, as the Christ, it was His spiritual suffering, culminating in His separation from God that is central to all that we see in the movie and read in the Gospels. For;

"God made Him who knew no sin to be sin on our behalf, so that we might become the righteousness of God in Him." (2Cor.5:21)

Therefore, the basic question, which the four Gospels asks of us, is; "Who is this man?" and this is indeed, the major question on the minds of the many hundreds of thousands of people all around the world who have seen the movie. In other words, the story confronts us through the manner and suffering of His death with the recognition that there is something more going on here than just another story of cruel torture and injustice. There is something deeper to this story that is disturbing because it touches upon things extremely personal and very human. Issues that we cannot put our finger on unless we can answer the question; "Who is this man?" but, the answer itself - Easter - also confronts us, because it is the day on which Jesus;

". . . through the Spirit of holiness was declared with power to be the Son of God by his resurrection from the dead. . ." (Rom.1:4)

The risen Christ, Jesus of Nazareth, answered the very same question for His disciples. Consequently, what confronts us today as we read the Gospels or watch "The Passion of the Christ" is the same thing that confronted His disciples when He was among them. "Who is this man?" But, is their answer - "JESUS LIVES!" - our answer? Because the Easter message is, "JESUS LIVES!" and it is, was and always will be the testimony and confession of every Christian in every age; many of whom were once Atheists, Communists, Pagans or Muslims, Hindus, Buddhists or New-Agers, men and women of great wealth and power as well as those who have or had nothing, as well as those who were like me; who never really cared very much to stop and think about it.

So, why not think about this, this Easter? What is your answer to the question;

"Who is this man?"
