Pad To Slab in Five Days

After two weeks of relative inactivity on the new St John Ambulance Sub Centre Building site, it was all hands on deck last week as the building construction swung into gear.

Proset Concrete of Bunbury arrived on Monday 2nd May 2016 and got into setting out the building. String lines and pins were put in place marking out where the building would be positioned on the sand pad.

Getting the concrete company on site was important to the Trevenen Plumbing team of Joe Trevenen, Rohan Trevenen and Mitch Thornton, as they needed the set out, to get on with the plumbing prelay. The location of the pipes is crucial to the build, and it was crucial that all the prelay was perfect. Being on site allowed questions to be answered instantly and small problems to be solved in minutes which will help stop problems further on in the build.

The Proset boys (Matt Nash (Business Owner/Operator), Lucas Radisich, Max Molloy) finished the setting out and then got on with digging of the substantial footings, as the footings and the slab would be poured as one.

With the Termite treatment booked for Tuesday, both teams were under the hammer to be finished in time.

Matt Cooper the Project Supervisor for AK Homes was on site Tuesday morning with the Concrete and Plumbing teams. Matt was overseeing the lead-up to

- ☺ Well, the federal election has been announced so prepare to be inundated with letters and advertising from people you have only vaguely heard about. If you aren't enrolled to vote, you can do it online. Not sure how to go about it or don't have access to a computer/internet then drop into the CRC and use the government computer. This computer is available to be used for any government business free of charge and we can help you if you need it. We can't help you with voting advice because we're just as lost as everyone else!
- ☺ And what has been going on in the sporting clubs? Every sporting club has sent in notes and news this fortnight, absolutely fantastic! I won't mention who was last to get theirs in but if he's not careful he may be on dish duty.
- ☺ Who would be interested in catching up with Centrelink? Due to the fires in Yarloop and Esperance the Centrelink bus will unfortunately be giving Lake Grace a miss this year. However Centrelink is interested in coming to the CRC and holding a 'digi day'. With so much of Centrelink and Medicare 'stuff' being handled online this is an ideal opportunity to learn how it's done. Needless to say Centrelink is more than happy to help with any other queries that people may have while they are here. I would suggest that anyone that has a smart phone should download the Medicare app., it makes claiming so much easier. You can also change your contact details or order a replacement card through the app.
- ☺ For those who have been missing the patchwork/crochet get together we will be restarting on Friday 20th May. Everyone is eligible to come along, doesn't matter whether you are a beginner or really know what you are doing. For those who would prefer to sew we will be finishing off the patchwork quilts; for those more interested in messing around with the yarn we will be starting on some new blankets! If you are interested in an evening workshop please contact the CRC, if we have a few names then I'm sure something can be arranged.
- ☺ We have booked Keen's to come to Lake Grace for the 24th & 25th August to do MC, HC & HR driver training and assessment. The Department of Transport has changed the rules, anyone wanting to do this workshop MUST have their documents into the CRC 28 days prior! So be organised or you miss out.
- ☺ We are in the process of updating our software, moving from Windows 7 to Windows 10 and upgrading our Microsoft Office from the 2010 version to the 2016 version. Once we have worked out what we are doing we'll be able to provide some lessons.
- ☺ We are also providing 1/2 hour one-on-one tuition for mobile phones, cost is $10. Staff are comfortable with Samsung and iPhone but will give others a go. Essential that you book in and you will need to bring any cords/books with you.
- ☺ Well done to Rita Marshall for winning the $50 fuel voucher from Roadwise, there's a speed quiz in this edition (p.27). The more entries the better.

What Are Our Health Needs?

Jo Drayton

The WA Primary Health Alliance (WAPHA) were successful in their tender for the three Primary Health Networks (PHN) across Western Australia, Perth North, Perth South and Country WA PHN. WAPHA are now working to build a robust and responsive patient centred primary health care system through innovative and meaningful partnerships at the local and state wide level.

WAPHA and the Country WA PHN are aligned to the Australian Governments six health pillars: Mental Health, Aged Care, Aboriginal Health, Population Health (chronic disease), Digital Health and the Health Workforce. We will be planning and commissioning primary health services/programs to:

- Improve people's experience of care and their quality of life
- Improve the health of the population
- Improve cost effectiveness in the primary health care system
- Reduce the number of potentially preventable hospitalisations

- Increase immunisation rates
- Increase cancer screening
- Improve mental health treatment rates

The WAPHA Country WA PHN team in the Wheatbelt consist of Fiona Bush (Regional Coordination Manager – based in Northam), Jo Drayton (Regional Coordinator and Network Support Officer for the Southern Wheatbelt – based in Narrogin), Julie Health (Regional Coordinator Officer for the Western, Eastern and Coastal Wheatbelt – based in Northam) and Melissa Deegenaaars (Network Support Officer for the Western, Eastern and Coastal Wheatbelt – based in Northam).

The Wheatbelt team are eager to hear your experiences of health and acquire local information about primary health service delivery to assist with their mapping and gapping as they move towards Outcomes Based Commissioning.

If you would like some input copies of the WAPHA Community Survey are available digitally or in hard copy at the Lake Grace CRC.

Insurance Tips # 9

Justin Wright & Kerry Hitchins

Every year you should receive a renewal invitation from your insurer. It is tempting to read the new amount due, sigh, pay the bill and put the document in a safe place. Often we don't spend the time to review the values placed on the items we've insured. Many items on your policy will adjust their values each year – for example, if your car is insured for market value, the premium will adjust to reflect that value each year. Similarly many policies automatically adjust the value of your house and contents to keep in line with current market values. Other values require some input from the insured.

The Cleggs have certainly appreciated the time Justin spends with them each year to review their policy. This year was a big one for changes to their policy, with a lot of machinery starting to lose value as it aged. The farm plan had machinery being replaced every 15 years and by the time the 15 years is near, the old equipment has lost much of its value. By putting realistic values on their machinery, the Cleggs have been able to better control their insurance costs.

The other major change the Cleggs have made this year, is to increase the value of contents insured at their Perth unit. With Clayton and Maddie now at university they are living in the unit and have managed to fill it with their possessions, so the minimum amount of $35,000 contents cover was inadequate and certainly wouldn't replace all the IT equipment in the unit. They have now insured the contents of the unit for $80,000. As the Cleggs have accidental damage cover, their policy also covers replacement of goods lost or stolen while temporarily removed from the premises. This provides peace of mind for the family as phones, laptops and iPads are often in the car as Maddie & Clayton go to and from uni.

The next time you receive your insurance renewal, take the time to review it and let your insurer know of any changes that need to be made. If you have questions, contact Justin or Kerry on 9865 3500.

They say when parents look at their child they don't see the differences; they see the most precious and wonderful blessing of their lives. They see their child. For Joe this was what not only what Nanna and Poppa saw but also all those who knew him. Joe was Joe - and I can think of no better way of celebrating than to share with you some of our family's memories, especially those from the earlier years of Joe's life.

When I listen to our family talk about Joe's childhood in Lake Grace - the stories remind me of a children's book about a cheeky mischievous character, beloved by all.

These are 'The Adventures of a Boy Called Joe'.

Joe was a boy from a small country town
The town loved Joe and Joe loved the town
With his black dog Prince by his side he would roam
All around town and then back home

When Joe was 6 it was time to start school
'Keep an eye on him Ronnie Dewson' - was the rule
But Joe's love for mischief and fun
Had him thrown out of school faster than he could run

Down the main street Joe would go everyday
With 3 or 4 morning tea stops on the way
Burt Handley the butcher would give him a sausage or two
And say 'take them to Aunty Glads and she'll cook them for you'
With a smile on her face she cooked them gladly
All the while muttering 'Bloody Burt Handley'

On his 10th Christmas Joe received his first bike
60 miles he rode that day on that bike
Head down bum up he'd ride up the main street
Cars weaving around him - their horns going beep

Down the Newdegate road out of town he would go
How far would he ride, who would know
Until someone found him to bring him back - with luck
Usually Mick Mason in the postal truck

One day when Jo was feeling like some fun
He dressed like a bandito and carrying a toy gun
Swaggered into the Co-op and to Wally Tucker said
'Stick-em up Wal - hands over your head'
Now Wally played along and put his hands in the air
But the new accountant in town got quite a scare
He ran out the co-op shouting 'call the police quick'
Joe thought that was a pretty good trick

One day Joe's dad got a call from the Hotel to say
"He's climbed up the water tower and he's up a fair way"

20 metres up Joe waved to those down below
Before climbing down and ending the show

One time Joe did not come home by night fall
The whole town went searching - one and all
Finally while riding down a small street lane
Rodney found him stuck in a water tank - thank goodness for no rain.

Outside Jack Wilson's servo Joe would sit
Banging a steel pole with a large wooden stick
All day this would go on - such fun to be had
All the while driving Jo Maddigan the Barber mad
When Joe left the Barber would throw all the sticks away
But Joe would be back banging the very next day

Joe was a boy from a small country town
The town loved Joe and Joe loved the town
With his black dog Prince by his side he would roam
All around town and then back home

At 17 Joe left Lake Grace to move with the family to Bunbury. Life became a little quieter for Joe, but not without more Joe adventures. As a kid we have such wonderful memories of Joe - playing chasey, putting on performances and trying to help Joe to talk. I can't count the number of times Justine would try and teach Joe how to say her name.. J J J Justine she would say - and Joe would always answer J J J Mustine. And Mustine she stayed. At Christmas Joe received enough batteries, textas, scribble pads, radios and watches to last most of us 4 or 5 lifetimes.

After Nanna passed away Joe entered a new phase of his life – as a housemate in an Active Foundation group home. It was here that Joe discovered his love of Coke, and there was nothing that he wouldn't do for one. If you didn't bring one on your visits Joe would, as Mum puts it, 'pack a pooppy' until you promised to bring one next time. As well as a can of Coke Dad always had a collection of guitar strings in his pocket because every visit always involved repairing stings broken from Joe's enthusiastic playing.

His urge to roam would return on occasions. He even made the papers and local news after he ran away and went missing overnight. Joe was eventually found the next day - locked in the Bunbury Race Club.

Dad wonders if Joe will still try to run away in heaven or if being back with Poppa, Nanna and Prince will keep him in one place.

These are but a few of the more vivid memories many of you may have of him. I am sure there are many more. He was lucky to be surrounded by such loving family and friends. We would like to thank you for taking Joe into your hearts. May you hold onto and share these memories and may they bring a smile to your face as you remember our Joe and his many adventures.

LAKE GRACE DHS POETRY FESTIVAL 2016

On Friday May 6 we held our annual poetry festival. This was the third Lake Grace DHS Poetry Festival and I have to say that it seems to be getting better each year.

It was pleasing to see every student who participated try their very best despite the butterflies in their tummy, the racing pulse and the blushing. All of which are all quite normal when we talk or perform in front of an audience. It was especially great to see really nervous children walk off the stage with a smile, and a spring in their step. One could infer that they and every other student felt they had accomplished something and felt proud.

This year there were quite a few parents, grandparents and other family members in the audience. We appreciated your presence in the audience and I am absolutely positive your children loved having you there to support them. Thank you.

I would also like to thank Cathie Kelly for being a fair and competent judge. Cathie's feedback each year helps us improve the event and we appreciate that.

Congratulations to all students who participated.

Wheelie Fun Family Show Rolling Out Across WA

Media Release

Internationally recognised circus performers will deliver one of the nation's best children circus acts performing in 21 regional Western Australian communities this May and June.

From Paris to New Zealand and China winners of the Best Children's Presentation Award at the 2015 Adelaide Fringe Festival, the Trash Test Dummies will kick off a mammoth regional tour in York, before heading south to Esperance and north to Paraburdoo.

The Trash Test Dummies stars Jamie Bretman, Isaac Salters and Simon Wright are highly skilled circus performers that can trash talk with the best of them. These dexterous dummies take the audience on a journey into their playful imagination inviting us to take a fresh look at the humble household wheelie bin with riotous stunts and an astonishing display of balance, acrobatics, slapstick and juggling.

The Trash Test Dummies tour is in huge demand by Western Australian regional communities. It was one of the three most voted shows in Country Arts WA's 2016 Shows on the Go program, a community driven touring program offering regional communities to vote for shows they want to see come to their town.

The show was in such demand that Country Arts WA was granted additional funding through the State Government's Royalties for Regions Program, the Regional and Remote Touring Fund, to enable Country Arts WA to meet the needs of the 21 venues wanting to present Trash Test Dummies.

"This year's Shows on the Go program has been well received throughout regional WA. We have seen more community organisations, local governments, community resource centres and venues wanting to bring high quality performing arts to their town. We are most grateful to the Royalties for Regions funding in enabling us to bring this work to more people across the state," says Country Arts WA Chief Executive Officer, Jessica Machin.

"Country Arts WA coordinates the tour on behalf of the local presenters who book the show for their town and manages all elements of the tour delivery. This allows the local presenters to focus on getting ready on the ground to present the show, promoting it locally for their community to come together and enjoy a night out".

The Shows on the Go tours are presented by Country Arts WA and Healthway promoting the Mentally Healthy WA campaign message, Act-Belong-Commit.

Healthway's Acting Executive Director, Maree De Lacey said "Healthway is delighted to support the Shows on the Go tour for 2016 to promote the Act-Belong-Commit message.

"Inventive and exciting presentations like Trash Test Dummies give regional families a terrific opportunity to get together, enjoy great shows, and celebrate the power of being part of a community," Ms De Lacey said.

"That's what it means to Act-Belong-Commit, and we're proud to partner with Country Arts WA to encourage country families to join with others for a mentally healthy WA."

Newdegate's Well Aged Housing Opens

The 'Well-Aged Housing' for people over 55 is completed and ready for tenants in Newdegate.

On Wednesday 4 May 2016 people came to celebrate the opening and the completion of a project which has taken some time. The official portion commenced with Shire President Jeanette De Landgraft welcoming the Hon Terry Waldron MLA, Shire President of Woodanilling Russel Thomson, Shire President of Williams John Cowcher and Heidi Cowcher, the Administrator and Supervisor of the 4WDL Project.

The 4WDL was founded to "establish and maintain effective communication and consultative mechanisms between the Shires of Dumbleyung, Wagin, West Arthur, Williams, Woodanilling and Lake Grace and their communities, on policy, processes and important issues.

The students from Newdegate Primary School attended the opening and eight students had the privilege of cutting the ribbon simultaneously to each of the units allowing people to view them after the opening.

The homes impressed those who walked through them for their size and finishing touches, which is a tribute to the Shire Building Team and the local Trades businesses for their hard work and dedication to complete the units in time for the opening. The community appreciates and is aware of the extra time and energy put into the project.

Great Southern Housing Asset Manager, Gary Cross and Tenant Manager Debbie Stone attended the morning and spoke to a few people interested in moving

To Volunteer

A. Volunteer

Just past “voluntary” and before “voluptuous” in the dictionary and it’s mostly directed towards joining the armed forces! Fortunately there is also mention of the less hazardous side – giving a helping hand, in this case to your local Visitors Centre.

Volunteers are an endangered species – hard to find and harder to keep. Good and valid reasons are given as to why someone cannot help but cannot there be good and valid reasons for helping?

There is nothing complex to work at the centre, a half a dozen shifts and you’ve got most of it. The 3 ½ hour shifts between 0900 – 1630 hrs Monday – Friday is not very onerous and there are advantages;

- ☺ You are kept cool or warm depending on the season
- ☺ Cups of tea/coffee and bikkies always available
- ☺ The boss lady is double ok, no slave driver and will sometimes do as you tell her!
- ☺ Great morning tea and discussion once a month for all vollies

- ☺ At least an annual trip to view all the local places you speak about with visitors
- ☺ Contact with a great variety of people eg. French, British, American, Chinese, New Zealander, German etc etc. Plus from the Eastern states and the locals

All these things and more just for turning up as rostered and bringing your “happy self”, plus the sincere appreciation of the boss lady and the committee.

We are not yet desperate but close!

New Perth Transport Service

Alison Dines

A new transport service with a focus on passenger safety launched 80 cars into the Perth market last month with an on-demand service allowing passengers to book a ride using an app and agree to a pre-determined fare.

The app called Shofer allows passengers:

- their choice of a female or male driver
- low cost upfront agreed fares before they start their journey
- agreed routes to maximize their time

The service also provides several safety features including:

- * security cameras in all vehicles
- * 24-hour monitoring hub
- * panic/alert button for passengers in all vehicles
- * in-vehicle breathalyser for drivers

I used the Shofer app twice last month for rides to and from the airport and was very impressed with it. The app itself was simple to navigate and provided me with a fixed rate so I knew the total cost of the ride before I booked it. Shofer guaranteed me no surcharge or price surging regardless of the date, time of day or traffic conditions and the price was surprisingly competitive.

Considering the excellent service I received I'm still astounded that the ride cost me the same as a regular taxi ride.

The Shofer logo of "On Time - Every Time" certainly proved true in my experiences. My cars arrived a couple of minutes early and the drivers waited patiently outside their vehicle, ready to assist. The cars were spotlessly clean, comfortable, odour-free and fresh. The drivers went out of their way to help my daughter and I by carrying our luggage, loading and unloading it for us, opening and closing our doors for us and even providing a snuggle rug for my daughter on a chilly night.

Both drivers had to pass an in-car breathalyser test before the car would start and even offered us complementary bottled water and mints throughout the journey.

Shofer has certainly made a statement in Perth, with it being the first Australian city to launch the Shofer service. The company expects to add another 150 hybrid Shofer vehicles to its Perth fleet in the coming months whilst rolling out in South Australia and the eastern states soon. Personally, I can't speak highly enough of them.

Govt Decision on Backpacker Tax 'Unacceptable'

Media Release (WAFarmers)

WAFarmers has condemned the Federal Government for not changing the proposed backpacker tax following recommendations from key industry stakeholders.

In the Federal Budget, it was confirmed that the proposed tax of 32.5 per cent and the removal of the tax free threshold for backpackers would remain unchanged. This followed reports late last week that recommendations from key industry stakeholders would not be included in the proposal.

WAFarmers Chief Executive Officer Stephen Brown said the move was unacceptable, and would cause irreparable damage to the Australian economy. "We are thoroughly disappointed that the advocacy efforts of WAFarmers, the National Farmers Federation, other industry organisations and individual working holiday makers appear to have been in vain," Mr Brown said.

"Despite constructive and open discussion during a round-table workshop with Federal Ministers and Senators last month, during which the interests of WAFarmers and other Western Australian stakeholders were represented, it appears our recommendations have simply been ignored.

"This is an extremely disappointing result, and appears to be a way of the government taking the easiest way out of a highly contentious issue."

Mr Brown confirmed that the issue was far from over, and WAFarmers would continue to consult with industry to ensure a fair and sustainable model is developed.

"The number of working holiday makers is on the decline. The government's decision will only exacerbate this trend and reduce income and productivity for the agricultural and tourism industries, in particular," Mr Brown explained.

"While the onus is now on the government to deliver strong returns from this disappointing result, WAFarmers will continue to work alongside key industry stakeholders and advocate for the agricultural industry on this critical issue.

"Should the government realise they have made a mistake in progressing the original proposal without including key recommendations, we would welcome further discussion and engagement."

How One Woman's Obsession Made Mothers Day Last

Taken from <http://www.msn.com/en-au/news/world/how-one-womans-obsession-made-mothers-day-last>

Mother's Day has its rituals: children make Mom breakfast or buy a small present, adults send a card, and those who have lost their mothers try to just ignore it. But the holiday began very differently — it started as a way to help mothers work together, and it only transformed more from there.

The book Memorializing Motherhood: Anna Jarvis and the Struggle for Control of Mother's Day (written by Katharine Lane Antolini) shares the complete story of the woman who conceived and tirelessly promoted Mother's Day, and it also shows just how dramatically the holiday has changed since it began.

Before the 1850s, there were celebrations of mothers, including ancient rituals for goddesses like the Greek Rhea and the Roman Cybele. But we can safely say the American holiday had its beginnings in the 1850's. That's because it began with the mother of the woman who ultimately established Mother's Day.

In the 19th century, there were extremely high infant mortality rates in the area that's West Virginia today. Caused by everything from poor sanitation to contaminated milk, it was a problem that Anne Reeves Jarvis was all too familiar with: only four of her 13 children survived into adulthood.

In response, Jarvis started Mothers' Day Work Clubs. The groups sought to help mothers team up to put a dent in high infant mortality and combat other problems. Their motto reflected that vision: "Mothers Work — for Better Mothers, Better Homes, Better Children, Better Men and Women."

"It was mothers being proactive," Antolini says. "It was about motherhood in a larger sense and having a responsibility to the community at large. To [Jarvis], motherhood wasn't just contained, it was about a broader family."

That activism made a strong impression on one of Jarvis's daughters, Anna Jarvis. She said her mother once ended a Bible lesson with a prayer for someone to found a memorial mother's day, and Anna did just that. But in the process, she incorporated her own unique vision of what being a mother meant.

Anna Jarvis founded Mother's Day in 1908, when she was 44 (three years after her own mother had died). On May 10, 1908, 400 people congregated at Andrews Methodist Episcopal Church in Grafton, West Virginia, to celebrate the first Mother's Day.

The location hints at the holiday's religious and spiritual roots. Anna Jarvis believed Mother's Day should serve as a solemn tribute to the living and deceased mothers of the world. Though there had been other contemporaneous celebrations of Mother's Day — one from 1873 even earned national attention — Jarvis's became the most famous.

She selected the second Sunday in May because it marked the anniversary of her mother's death and she wanted Mother's Day to always fall on the Sabbath. Her vision of motherhood stayed constant through the years for a couple of reasons.

"A lot of it is that Anna herself never marries or has children. She has no idea what motherhood means from the eye of the mother," Antolini says. "It was very much seeing motherhood through the eyes of a child." Jarvis retreated from her mother's socially conscious vision for Mother's Day in favor of one that idolized the mother's individual role.

Anna's vision of Mother's Day was one in which children gave personal messages of appreciation to mothers, possibly bought a white carnation for them, and credited their mothers with a nearly sacred domestic role. "There is ONE DAY in the year we do not talk of POOR MOTHERS and ask charity for them," Jarvis once wrote.

As idealistic as Jarvis was, she was also a hustler when it came to promoting her "holy day." She reached out to powerful leaders, the floral industry, and others like wealthy department store owner John Wanamaker. She even quit her job at Fidelity Mutual to start the Mother's Day International Association in 1912 (living off inheritance from her brother and father — Mother's Day itself didn't bring her much profit).

But that dedication didn't stop the holiday from growing into something she no longer recognized.

When Woodrow Wilson declared Mother's Day a national holiday in 1914, he was leaping onto a national bandwagon. Moments like that became symbolic of how the holiday had spiraled beyond Anna Jarvis's control. She always resented when he or anybody else took credit for the holiday.

But Jarvis's greatest contempt was directed at something many people still complain about today: Mother's Day's commercialization. Jarvis had once given florists Mother's Day placards to boost the holiday, but in the 1910s she wanted them stopped. Most famously, she endorsed boycotting florists and crashed a confectioner's convention in protest.

She was even irked by the work of charities. When American War Mothers used Mother's Day to try to raise funds, Jarvis protested and was arrested for disorderly conduct. She called those who raised money off Mother's Day "Christian pirates." When the Maternity Centre Association latched onto Mother's Day, Jarvis said they'd co-opted a day meant for "gratitude to the living, and reverent memories for the deceased."

Why did these Mother's Day changes upset Anna so much? She believed commercialism detracted from true sentiment, and charity made the mother into an object of pity. "She would have said, 'No mother is poor. She has the love of her children,'" Antolini says.

With that, Jarvis may have also seen social campaigns as a gradual devaluation of a mother's individual ability. "Health campaigns seemed to say that women have a proper capacity to love our children, but can't properly raise them," Antolini says. But even as Jarvis's vision continued to be pushed aside, she fought for it just as doggedly the rest of her life.

Does modern Mother's Day fit Jarvis's vision?

Jarvis died in a sanitarium in 1948, driven to poor health by her unrelenting mission to promote and protect the holiday she created.

Would she like the Mother's Day we have today, with its mix of political and commercial influences (with a particularly heavy dose of the latter)?

"I think she'd have mixed reactions," Antolini says. "The commercial stuff would still bother her. She would be thrilled that it's still being celebrated. That would certainly tickle her."

But that's not all. Antolini is quick to add that Jarvis probably wouldn't have dropped her obsession, so there's one other way she would have reacted to her holiday's enduring appeal: "She would have wanted credit for it."

CEO's Corner

We are quickly approaching the end of financial year with many tasks still to be addressed.

Our road programme has a number of outstanding projects, mainly due to an additional $700,000 of Roads to Recovery monies being made available by the Commonwealth Government. This is good news for a Shire such as Lake Grace that is dependent on its significant road network.

Staff are currently reviewing the current budget provisions to ensure as many jobs as possible are competed.

This raises the prospect of next year's budget which is now being prepared. If you or your local community organisation have a project for budget consideration, please let us know the details ie cost, local funding options, timelines etc.

Lake Grace / Newdegate Medical Practice

Over the past few weeks, Dr Lochner has opened the practice on a Saturday to coincide with local football games, hockey etc. This has proven to be well received by locals. Congratulations to Dr Lochner for his initiative which has helped many who could not normally attend the practice during the week.

Independent Living Units and Lesser Hall – Newdegate

The official opening of the Units and Lesser Hall upgrade was held on Wednesday, 4 May 2016 with Tuck Waldron officiating at the unveiling of the plaque together with Shire President Jeanette De Landgraft. Local students also participated in cutting ribbons to each of the Units.

The opening was well attended by locals and fellow 4WDL Shires all wishing to see the end result after some months of uncertainty and fluctuating expectations. The Shire's building team and local contractors have done a great job in delivering a quality outcome that received positive comments from those in attendance.

Notwithstanding, there remains some minor final touches to be completed mainly in regard to services such as power and water and other issues raised will be discussed at next week's Newdegate Rejuvenation Committee meeting. The Shire held the official opening of these facilities on Wednesday, 4 May 2016 (See featured story).

Independent Living Units (ILU's) – Lake Grace

With completion of the four (4) Newdegate ILU's, this brings to seven (7) the total of such accommodation constructed in the Shire over the past three years. The Shire has laid the sand pad for a further three (3) ILU's to be constructed on Lot 107 Bennett Street, Lake

Grace, with construction to start within weeks.

Overall the Shire will have ten ILU's to meet the needs of its "well aged" residents. I have been asked what "well aged" means and it is not as some have mischievously suggested, the very old; but rather "aging and in good health" that can be independent for some years to come.

I would like to extend the Shire's appreciation to the 4WDL Volunteer Organisation of Councils, consisting of Wagin, Williams, West Arthur, Woodanilling and Kent, which together with the Shire of Lake Grace have facilitated some $15 million of Royalties for Regions investment for forty five (45) independent living units across the seven Shires. The work of Heidi Cowcher from the Shire of Williams, who has driven the investment applications, finance management and acquittal requirements over these past five years cannot go unmentioned. Thanks Heidi, thanks 4WDL.

The Australian Bureau of Statistics is preparing to count close to 10 million dwellings and approximately 24 million people in Australia on Census night.

The 2016 Census will be Australia's first Census where more than two thirds of Australia's population (more than 15 million people) are expected to complete the Census online in August 2016.

The Census provides an important snapshot of Australia's people and their housing. It helps estimate Australia's population, which is used to distribute government funds and plan services for your community, including housing, transport, education, industry, hospitals and the environment.

the Termite treatment and it allowed us to meet in person for the first time as all of our conversation to that point was by phone, text and email.

The afternoon was spent getting down the black plastic membrane and putting the mesh in place in the trenches, and on the floor for the Structural Engineer inspection on Wednesday morning at 9am.

Wednesday came, and Dan Turner the Structural Engineer from Narrogin was on site to inspect the steelwork for the pad, but unfortunately Proset Concrete had to return to Bunbury for the day, making the inspection a little difficult. However with phone calls and emails we were able to get some minor issues noted for change. The Proset boys were back on site at 3.30pm to make the changes and had to be ready for the first load of concrete at 7.30am the next morning.

Our engineer is very specific, and the Proset team were required to add in extra steel where they have never done so before, and to run the mesh between the two pours i.e. the main building pour and the garage pour, again something new to them, and requiring some formwork adjustment. In the end we got the all clear to go ahead with the pour as the first concrete arrived.

Oborne Concrete supplied the "mud" for the job with Grant himself delivering the first load, and then he and his driver (Gary Lambert), kept 2 trucks turning around to pour 44m³ of concrete on the Thursday.

Proset had added a member to their team on their return to Bunbury bringing Kyle Prior back with them. Let's just say they were very glad they did, as the team only got to have lunch after 4pm and only got the finishing completed on the main floor pad as darkness set in good and proper.

Friday was another early day for the Proset team as the formwork had to be relocated to the garage side of the building, some final tying off of mesh needed to be completed, and the installation of chairs (the things that hold the mesh up off the plastic), had to be in place before the bell rang for round 2 at 7.30am on Friday 6th May.

Oborne Concrete was dead on time with the first truck putting the Proset boys under the pump to be ready. But ready they were for the first truck of the day. The garage took 25m³ of concrete to complete the job with the last pour going in at 11.36am.

It then took until 3pm for the Proset boys to get all of the floating and finishing completed, all boards down and washed, and all rubbish and bits picked up. The boys then headed back to Bunbury satisfied with their 69m³ pour.

It was so good to see teamwork and a sense of pride in work. Oborne Concrete driver, Gary Lambert made a little spill near the Sportsman's club, and without any prompting he grabbed a shovel and a wheelbarrow and went and cleaned it up. Matt Nash of Proset Concrete also went the extra mile by making the set-in for the roller doors (stops the water coming in under the roller doors) in the garage even though it was not in the details to do so. Joe Trevenen was called into action when a steel plate that was set in the concrete was going to collide with a vent pipe in a wall. Joe was swiftly on site to make an adjustment to allow the extra steel column to be in place. So well done boys.

In another generous show of support for the project, Grant Osborne has donated all the concrete for the pad to the project. While Greg, Paula and Justin Carruthers have donated the sand for the concrete to the project. As the project is a set price contract with AK Homes Construction, both Osborne Concrete and the Carruthers family will make their donations in cash to the project. So if you see them, please thank them for their generous donations.

All donations to St John Ambulance WA Ltd over $2 are tax deductible.

The steel framework of the building is slated to be going up as this Lakes Link goes to press. In the next fortnight we should see the building taking shape.

We encourage you to have a look at the development, but please remember it is a construction site and stay a healthy distance from the site unless invited onto the site by one of the construction team. This is your community project and we encourage you to be part of its progress.

SOME OF THE BEST SMART ALEC ANSWERS EVER

SMART ALEC ANSWER 1

It was mealtime during a flight on a British Airways plane:

"Would you like dinner?" the flight attendant asked the man seated in the front row.

"What are my choices?" the man asked.

"Yes or no," she replied.

SMART ALEC ANSWER 2

A lady was picking through the frozen chickens at a Woolworths store but she couldn't find one big enough for her family.

She asked a passing assistant, "Do these chickens get any bigger?"

The assistant replied, "I'm afraid not, they're dead."

SMART ALEC ANSWER 3

The policeman got out of his car and the teenager he stopped for speeding rolled down his window

When the policeman finally stopped laughing, he sent the kid on his way without a ticket.

SMART ALEC ANSWER 4

A lorry driver was driving along on a country road. A sign came up that read "Low Bridge Ahead."

Before he realised it, the bridge was directly ahead and he got stuck under it.

Cars were backed up for miles. Finally, a police car arrived.

The policeman got out of his car and walked to the lorry's cab and said to the driver, "Got stuck, eh?"

The lorry driver said, "No, I was delivering this bridge and ran out of diesel!"

Murphy applied for a fork lift operator post at a famous Irish firm based in Dublin.

A Norwegian applied for the same job and since both applicants had similar qualifications, they were asked to take a test and led to a quiet room with no interruptions by the Manager.

When the results were in, both men had scored 19 out of 20.

The manager went to Murphy and said, "Thank you for coming to the interview, but we've decided to give the Norwegian the job."

Murphy,... "And why would you be doing that? We both got 19 questions correct.

This being Ireland and me being Irish surely I should get the job."

Manager, "We have made our decision not on the correct answers, but on the question you got wrong."

Murphy, "And just how would one incorrect answer be better than another?"

Manager "Simple; on question number 7 the Norwegian wrote down,

'I don't know.'

You put down, 'Neither do I.' "

Lake Grace Golf Club Notes

Craig Reeves

Awe inspiring, magnificent, inspirational and impressive are not the words to be used describing the last couple of weeks of golf scores. On the other hand sad, dismal, lugubrious and cheerless would pretty much sum it up.

Somehow over summer the rating for the Lake Grace Golf Course has gone from doable to what the hell is going on? Kevin have you injected a dose of impossible to the course while out mowing?

On the plus side misery loves company and everyone appears to be in the same boat.

On the 1st May a Par event was held with Elders Lake Grace supplying some great prizes. Winner on the day was Chad Stanton with a score of square; following close behind was Derek Stanton with -1 and Martin Carruthers with -2. Hardest trier on the day was Anton Kuchling.

Novelties went to Michelle Lay (NTP No.4), Craig Reeves (NTP No. 6), Mathew Spurr (NTP No.15) and Chad Stanton (NTP No.18). Long Drive for the men on No.2 was Anton Kuchling while the Long Drive for the Ladies on No.16 went to Michelle Lay. Long putt on No.9 was won by Chad Stanton while the birdy hole (no.4) jackpotted yet again.

Half a dozen from Lake Grace attended the Browning Cup in Kukerin on Saturday 7th May, no word yet as to how our local golfers acquitted themselves.

Everyone was excited and looking forward to the Stroke event held on 8th May which had the added bonus of being the first of the Qualifying Rounds. There were some outstanding cricket scores; with the course once again proving it was Master of the Universe!

Thank you to Great Southern Fuels for their bountiful sponsorship, the support from local business is truly appreciated.

Keeping warm with many swings Mark Newton was winner on the day for the men with 104-26-78, winning for the ladies was Michelle Lay with 108-24-84.

Runners-up were Marty Carruthers with 111-31-80 for the men while Helen Hunt was runner-up for the ladies with 111-17-94. The only one managing to break 100 on the day was Rob McVean. Great to see John O'Neill out for a hit, the things you have to do for work. Well done Johnno!!

NTP No. 4 (sponsored by Elders Insurance) was won by Helen Hunt, NTP No.6 (sponsored by Lake Grace Roadhouse) was won by Denise Gobbart, NTP No.15 (sponsored by Lake Grace Post Office) was won by Michelle Lay while NTP No.18 (sponsored by Lake Grace CRC) was won by Kevin Eggers. Longest putt on No.9 (sponsored by LG Tyrepower) was won by Denise Gobbart. Long Drive for the Men (sponsored by LG Home Improvements) was won by Rob McVean.

Next week's event is the Captain's Day, come on people it's a Stableford so I expect some decent scores. This throwing the anchor is getting a bit ridiculous. Sunday 22nd is a Stroke event and another Qualifying Round, an opportunity to shine! The day is sponsored by Lake Grace Meat Supply.

LGP A RESERVES

Newdegate could not field a reserves side and forfeited to LGP however a scratch match was held between some players from both sides.

LGP JUNIORS

In the Juniors game LGP defeated Newdegate

Final Scores LGP 12-14=86 defeated Newdegate 3-1=19

Fed by Fyfe awards went to Jason O'Neill and Judd McKenzie.

Better players were Lachlan Younger, Jackson Callope, Brady McGlinn and Josh Cameron.

Even with some player exchange to even the sides up LGP were too good with the bigger boys in their side moving the ball around with precision.

LGP LEAGUE

The anticipated clash between the two undefeated clubs had arrived.

Commenced at 2.07pm with umpires Chris Norton and Brian Lee in charge of today's match. Newdegate won the toss and elected to take the breeze and kick to the Northern end of the ground.

The Bombers notched up their first score of the game at the 10 minute mark with a behind and at that point the Newdegate Lions had 8 behinds on the board, seemingly not allowing for the diagonal breeze moving the ball once off the boot. The Bombers managed to score 2 goals 1 into the breeze and Newdy scored 2-10 for the first term.

Quarter time score was LGP 2-1=13 Newdegate 2-10=22

The Bombers had the breeze in the second term but could not penetrate their forward line as cleanly as they would have liked adding 3 goals 2 to their score but holding Newdegate scoreless to enter the half time break 12 points in front.

Half time scores stood at LGP 5-4=34 Newdegate 2-10=22

Right from the commencement of the third quarter the Lions attacked the ball harder and had put a major on the board within the first minute. Newdegate then followed up with another major to even the scores at 34 points each. The Bombers seemed a bit shell shocked as the Lions went on to boot seven for the quarter, 6 from Jarred Offer who was running riot seeming to have space every time he offered a lead. The Bombers had added just 1 behind for the quarter.

Three quarter time scores were LGP 5-5=35 Newdegate 9-12=66

The Bombers kicking with the breeze scored their first major 8 minutes into the last term, their first goal since the second quarter. LGP scored another before the final siren but were 21 points behind at the end. Newdegate had shown that they were able to shut down the Bombers with the pressure they put on, particularly in their back line. LGP rarely got a clean kick away whereas Newdy seemed to have options with plenty of space to set up their attack forward.

Final scores were LGP 7-7=49 Defeated by Newdegate 9-16=70

Better players were Luke Bairstow, Tyson Prater, Jack Carruthers, Jarryd Morton, Alex Duckworth, Ben Tomkins, Patrick Smith, Kael Gray, Alistair Hunt, Craig Clinch, Tyson Bell, and Rohan Trevenen.

Award winners were: Best on Ground Tyson Prater, Best on Ground runner up Jarryd Morton and the Coaches award went to Alistair Hunt.

On Saturday we met Newdegate for our first game in Lake Grace, not only did the cold wind and rain arrive but also a very special surprise visitor...Nat Fyfe...and what an awesome surprise he was. We were so lucky to have him there watching the kids play but also to have him personally present the two 'Fed by Fyfe' Awards which he sponsors every week. Winners of those were Jason O'Neill and Judd McKenzie.

We would like to say a massive Thank You to Nat for coming to watch our D Graders play, for taking an interest and chatting to the kids after the game and once again for sponsoring us. The kids (and parents) really look up to you and we wish you the best for a speedy recovery and getting back to what you're so good at.

Saturday 30th April - Round 3 Gnowangerup

A Grade. Coach: Karen Bairstow.
Gnowangerup 46 - LGP 29

The weekend saw a very different line up with quite a few girls away, which was always going to be a tough task to take on Gnowangerup. The first quarter was quiet and although Lake Grace had as much play we were unable to capitalise. The game was very close and at times quite rough.

We were unable to stay with Gnowangerup and they ran away with the game.

This week girls, we need to regroup and get the full squad back and put in an extra effort to try and beat Newdegate who will be very tough opponents.

Thanks to Brittnee Knill for filling in for us also to Linda Vlasich and Caitlin White for sitting on the bench. Welcome Candace Burchell to the club.

Best on Ground: Jemma Bairstow who I thought ran all day trying to provide a spark and led and delivered the ball into the attacks very well.

Coach's award: Candy Burchell, a new player to the club tried her hardest and made good decisions, not easy when you haven't played with the team before.

B Grade. Coaches: Flick (Felicity) Young & Caitlin White
Gnowangerup 42 - LGP 35

This week was another challenge for the B grade girls going down by 7 goals. Again we started with a different playing team with some girls away and others returning. Welcome back Sonia, Linda and Tor. We had a tough first quarter but the girls pulled together and fought back for a strong final quarter. Sonia and Deb put in an outstanding effort in the defence and Linda backed it up with an amazing return as Goal Shooter, definitely Best on Ground. It's always going to be challenging playing with a big team but we need to keep working hard on playing as a team. Looking forward to our next home game against Newdegate.

Best on ground: Linda Vlasich for working hard around the circle and using the support of others to make sure she found the best position with a high shooting percentage.

Coaches award: Debbie Regan for every week putting in a hundred percent effort. Deb never gives in and fights for the ball all the time.

Juniors. Coach: Lisa Pearce
Gnowangerup 27 - LGP 12

The junior girls showed their determination as even though they went down, they actually out scored Gnowangerup in the final quarter. Well done to all the girls for fighting until the last whistle. Our defence had a huge amount of pressure on them and they all performed extremely well. Special mention to Leila, Kelsie and Reegan.

Best on ground: Paige Zweck who had a tough time in GD and had an outstanding game.

Coaches award: Ruby Stanton also playing defence who intercepted passes, and led down the court well.

Net Set Go. Coach: Shelley Stanton

Even though we don't score in NSG, more of our goals went in than Gnowangerup's, so we flew the flag this week. With only 8 girls available for this weeks game, all the girls in year 3 & 4 played a full game this week and the year 1 & 2 played 3/4 of a game.

Stanton started off strong and fast in centre with Pearce and Stanton working well in goals. Both scored well for the team in the first quarter and the strong Jury defence left Gnowangerup scoreless in the first quarter. With Callope and Furphy, two of our newest recruits in the wings, they received and delivered the ball well to their teammates. At quarter time after they consumed some energy supplies, (kindly donated by Kristie, thankyou Kristie), Duckworth came on for her debut game and Callope was given a rest.

The second quarter saw Gnowangerup come out with some fire in their belly! We made a few changes to confuse them with swapping the two Stanton's around, we put both Ambers into defence and gave Duckworth the job of Wing Attack, who was full of beans, jelly beans that is!! Eliza Jury was unstoppable in Wing Defence and Gnowangerup was getting frustrated with our defence.

Third and fourth quarters saw great skills from all the girls. They were pivoting well, minimal stepping and really trying hard with getting in front, but also were getting puffed. Holly in defence, so exhausted had to hold onto the goal pole while defending!! Amber Furphy was rested in the third quarter and Gnowangerup outscored us also in the 3rd.

Eliza Jury was given the fourth quarter off, after playing an energetic game. Gianna did a fantastic job in Centre in the final quarter along with Sheree and Tess in defence, trying really hard to stop those goals, Tess having the skills of her Mum was able to defend the ball away. Both Ambers were in goals, they rebounded well and between them we were able to outscore them in the 4th term. Payton and Holly were in the wings, with Payton receiving well on our centre pass and Holly worked in well with the defenders.

A great game all up!! The girls really played well and coach Stanton was proud of all of them.

Saturday 7th May - Round 4 Newdegate

A Grade. Coach: Karen Bairstow
Newdegate 32 - LGP 29

Just as the A Grade game started the skies opened up, down came the rain and the wind picked up. The conditions caught the girls off guard and we let Newdegate jump us in the first quarter outscoring us by 5 goals which is a lot in those conditions.

After regrouping we were able to match them for the last three quarters but were unable to gain the lead from a more determined Newdegate side.

Newdegate were able to capitalise on our turnovers and they ran out winners.

Best on ground: Billie MacTaggart, who kept us in the game early and gained confidence as the game went on to outsmart her opponent with good movement in the circle.

Coaches award: Lauren Duckworth, who fought hard and tried to get the team fired up with good run out of the backline.

Next week we take on the talented Boxwood girls where we will have to play at our best if we want to come away with a win.

B Grade. Coach: Flick Young & Caitlin White
LGP 49 - Newdegate 18

The B grade girls had a great win. The girls went into the game with a fight for the win and everyone stepped up and performed incredibly well. We were strong in the shooting with Casey and Linda working really well together, this was supported by a tough centre court and defence. After 3/4 time being up by so many gave us the opportunity to change things and move girls into different positions. Special mention to Kelly Callope on her return after injury. Well done girls let's keep this winning momentum going

Best on ground: Casey Pinney, she took skills learnt at training and put them into play during the game. She played a strong defensive game with two awesome intercepts in a row.

Coaches award: Sonia Harris, she was thrown into centre and with no complaints took on the position and gave it her all.

Juniors. Coach: Lisa Pearce
LGP 29 - Newdegate 3

Junior girls had a great game and came away with their first win of the season. They led and attacked well, improving with each game they play.

Best On ground: Georgia Furphy who was put into a position she had never played before and did a fantastic job, well done.

Coaches award: Kira Pearce who played an entire game in centre and put 100% in all four quarters.

Keep it up girls, Coach Lisa looks forward to the rest of the season.

Net Set Go. Coach: Shelley Stanton

We had an great game against Newdegate. They have great numbers and we had nine players available this week, which meant two girls on the bench so we were able to really run and be able to rest two at a time. Grace Penney played her first game for LGPNC this week.

Tess and Amber shot well in the first quarter. Gianna played well in defence with the help of Sheree and our centre players did some great passing. Our footwork is improving every week but we still need to work on leading forward into the space.

Payton Callope played well in Wing Attack this week as did Eliza Jury. Kristie topped up the lolly container this week, thank you for doing that again.

Holly played well in defence in the third quarter which was cut short due to the rain. We had a big rest before going on for the last quarter once the rain had cleared.

Grace started off in goals with Eliza, but with Newdegate's tall defence, we had to work hard to get a goal. Tess worked well in Centre with Amber Furphy full of energy in the Wing.

The team did a great job and I am really pleased with their progress. Training is as usual Thursday at 4.15pm. This week we are playing away and heading to Boxwood. If you are able to play please let Shelley know at training or before.

Afternoon Tea was the best LGP have put on, we raised so much for our club so a huge well done and thank you to everyone who made a plate or two. And a special thank you to Shelley Stanton who made THREE! Keep this up Ladies.

Thanks to junior footy for the delicious dinner, lots of compliments on how it was served, a mini Indian buffet. So well done to you all.

Lake Grace Pingrup Junior Hockey Club

It's that time of year and once again we've recruited a heap of keen little hockey players. Very exciting to have our skilled players back from last year plus some newbies including three year 3's who train with us every Thursday, waiting for their call-up next year.

Round 1 Jerramungup (0) v's LGP (0)

A brilliant first game back against last year's premiers. We showed fantastic team work and showed that we were keen for another great season.

Awards: Best on Ground – Jonty Robinson Top Effort: Kira Pearce

Round 2 LGP (1) v's Borden (3)

Our Pingrup home game, another fantastic game but unfortunately we were overrun by their extra year 7's but we definitely gave it our best shot. It was exciting to see Jonty score his first goal.

Awards: Best on Ground – Josh Giles Top Effort: Michael Watson

Round 3 Gnowangerup (3) v's LGP (0)

Turf...what more can I say...such a dream to play on. Our kids loved the experience. It was fantastic to see transfers across field, confidence with ball passes, backing up and stick skills which is always a lot harder on the grass. Excited that we can play on the turf twice this season.

Awards: Best on Ground – Troy Murray Top Effort: Amber Pearce

Round 4 LGP (3) v's Newdegate (1)

Wow...what an amazing game. I thought last week was awesome but this week was brilliant. We practised making leads and being hungry and desperate in front of goal and that's exactly what you did on Saturday, this resulting in three fantastic goals of every kind. Goal scorers were Reegan Marshall, making history by being the very first person to score a goal in our brand new goals, Jonty Robinson and Jai Clifford. Every player gave it their absolute all. Well done to you all.

Thanks to Kira Pearce who has put her hand up as our Round 1-5 goalie. She's doing a brilliant job. This season we are lucky to have three players; Kira Pearce, Jake Cameron and Josh Giles, all keen for the toughest job on the field. Thanks for all volunteering.

Keep up the great work kids. Every week you are putting all that we are learning into practise and I'm one very proud coach.

After a long hot summer - hockey is back. This season we welcome Darren Clifford as Coach, a few old faces back, some new younger faces and a second Umpire with Jamie Eggers picking up a whistle. We had to juggle of few unplanned pregnancies (not sure what is in the Lake Grace water) but after coming so close last year - a new focused team is ready for the 2016 Season.

LGPHC 4 def Jerramungup 0

With all the rain - a very heavy, muddy field greeted us and welcomed us back to hockey for 2016. A solid Team performance was the order of the day. It was a perfect start to the season.

Best of Ground: Juanita O'Neill

Team Player: Jackie (Birthday Girl) McGlinn

LGPHC 6 def Borden 0

All roads led to Pingrup for the Round 2 Clash. The score doesn't reflect the game. Borden put us through our paces. It was a great game to implement the things Darren has been teaching us at training.

Best of Ground: Lyn Carruthers

Team Player: Karissa Pelham

LGPHC 3 def Gnowangerup 1

We had date with the turf for a clash against Gnowangerup. Another solid team game. Thanks to Donna for stepping into goals for the week and doing an amazing job. Also great to see Arelene make her long awaited comeback even if it was via Scotland.

Best on Ground: Missy Clifford

Team Player: Kathryn Nolan

LGPHC 1 lost to Newdegate 2

The day had finally arrived - Grand Final rematch. With new hockey goals and the field looking amazing. The Team was ready to test themselves against the Competition leaders. When the weather cleared the game was on. The game was tied at 1 goal each. But with 5 minutes to go Newdegate scored the winning goal. We walked away knowing that they are beatable and what we need to fine tune at training. Luckily we don't have to wait too long to take them on again. This Sunday we have our make-up game in Gnowangerup against Newdegate at 2.00pm. So if you are at a loose end - we would love to see you there.

Best of Ground: Holly Korosec

Team Player: Yasmine Featherstone

Front Row: Robyn Ogilvie, Juanita O'Neill, Naomi Duckworth, Missy Clifford, Donna Skerris, Gracie Kirk.

Changes to the Associations Incorporation Act

<https://www.commerce.wa.gov.au/consumer-protection/associations-new-law>

For anyone involved with an incorporated organisation the following information may be useful to you. Keep in mind many of the groups in Lake Grace probably already comply with the changes so there won't be any need to panic. Groups have three years to make changes to their constitution (if needed), but will have to adopt any financial changes needed on the 1st July 2016.

The Associations Incorporation Act 2015 is anticipated to replace the current Associations Act as of 1 July 2016.

The new law will continue to provide a framework of regulation for not-for-profit organisations such as sport and recreation clubs, societies and community groups in Western Australia leaving the internal management of associations largely to the members. Associations will still be able to incorporate as a separate legal body and thereby limit the liability of its members for lawful activities.

The Department will be offering information and resources about the new law to incorporated associations throughout the transitional period.

Keep checking back to the Department of Commerce's website (as above) to access information and material about the new law as they are uploaded.

Important: Please remember the current requirements of the Associations Incorporation Act 1987 continue to apply until the new law commences on 1 July 2016.

Government's Regulatory Impact Assessment Requirements

In accordance with the Government's Regulatory Impact Assessment requirements, a copy of the Decision Regulatory Impact Assessment and Compliance Assessment Notice have been made available.

Key features of the new law

The new law will require associations to update their rules as well as introducing a number of changes regarding:

- financial reporting,
- governance,
- privacy,
- the rules and
- membership of incorporated associations

Financial Reporting

The new law will introduce a three-tiered system of financial reporting and accountability requirements based upon the associations revenue.

- Tier 1 associations (revenue of less than $250,000) can elect to prepare basic financial statements with no independent review or audit.
- Tier 2 associations (revenue of $250,000 – $1,000,000) must prepare financial reports that give a true and fair view of the financial position of the association in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards. Such reports must be reviewed by a member of a professional accounting body.
- Tier 3 associations (revenue of more than $1,000,000) must prepare financial reports that give a true and fair view of the financial position of the association in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards. Such reports must be audited by a member of a professional accounting body holding a public practicing certificate.

Associations will still be required to provide their financial reports to members; however the reports will not be required to be provided to the Commissioner.

Management

The new law will formalise the obligations of committee members, which already exist under other laws. These include:

- duty of care and diligence;
- duty to act in the best interests of the association and for a proper purpose; and
- duty not to misuse their position or information

Eligibility requirements are also set out which prohibit persons from sitting on the management committee where they:

- are an undischarged bankrupt or whose affairs are under insolvency law,
- been convicted with an offence involving fraud or dishonesty punishable on conviction by 3 months or more imprisonment; and
- have been convicted of an offence in connection with the promotion, formation of management of a body corporate, including duties under the new law.

Any person can request the Commissioner's approval to be appointed to the committee.

Privacy

The new law provides measures to better protect the privacy of association members. Access to the membership register continues to be restricted to association members but now the new law also limits how the information may be used. Further, a member may provide a post office box or email address for contact instead of a residential address.

Model Rules

Importantly all associations will be required to update their rules and either adopt the Model Rules, or adapt their own rules (provided that the rules comply with the new law). Incorporated associations will have three years from 1 July 2016 to ensure that either their rules comply with the new law or to adopt the new model rules.
